STEVENSON BACKS IKE'S TRADE PLAN

By JOHN SCALI
WASHINGTON (AP)—Adlai Stevenson said today it would be "folly and unthinkable" for Congress to refuse to approve the Eisenhower administration's plea for a five-year extension of the reciprocal trade law.

He cautioned that any retreat on trade policy would not only imperil millions of jobs at home but also have sweeping impacts overseas.

"It will further weaken our alliances, further enfeeble confidence in our leadership, push the great undeveloped areas into Communist arms, and in the long run isolate, imperil and impoverish us," he said.

The two-time Democratic nominee for president joined with Republican Cabinet officers in a day-long trade rally before 1,000 representatives of organizations backing the trade law.

President Eisenhower makes a 9:30 p. m. EST radio-television speech at a dinner. Vice President Nixon, House Speaker Sam Rayburn and top business leaders, government officials and congressmen also are on the dinner program.

Stevenson, in an address prepared for a luncheon meeting, assailed foes of the 26-year-old reciprocal trade program as apparently "determined to make Stalin a prophet and Khrushchev a conqueror." He said they have ignored Soviet boasts that the Reds can win the world peacefully because of superior trade policies.

O. R. Strackbein, head of the National Committee on Export-Import Policy, announced he will ask the broadcast networks for equal time to reply to Eisenhower's appeal.

Strackbein's group sponsored a rival meeting of about 100 delegates, in a hotel a mile away from the administration-backed rally, to plug for a protectionist policy. A principal objective there was passage of legislation to give Congress the final authority over tariff increases on any goods which threaten domestic industry.

Hike in Relief Rolls Does Not Create Problem

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Public Assistance Department said today increased relief rolls would not create a financing problem until next year and that there was no danger of persons being cut off from assistance.

J. Carl Crowe, finance director, said the 1959 Legislature would probably be asked to make a deficit appropriation ranging from 12 to 18 million dollars depending on unemployment conditions.

The current $45,700,000 appropriation for relief will likely run out two or three months in advance of the end of the current two-year fiscal period May 31, 1959.

The department said about 298,000 persons were now on relief, representing about 125,000 families. Of the 298,000, a total of 62,000 was receiving general assistance and 132,000 in the form of aid for dependent children.

Comic Unwanted by TV Wins Oscar As Supporting Actor

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Joanne Woodward, who came to Hollywood's fanciest party of the year in a dress she sewed herself, and Britain's "Man-of-1,000-Faces," Alec Guinness, today hold moviedom's top Oscars.

"The Bridge on the River Kwai" was voted the best picture last night at Hollywood's 30th Academy Award, a show that many critics called one of the best ever.

Red Buttons, a comic unwanted by television, won the supporting actor Oscar for his first movie and first serious role. Buttons played the U. S. airman who murdered a Japanese girl in "Sayonara."

And Miyoshi Umeki, who played Buttons' wife in the picture, won the feminine supporting Oscar. She was the first

Strong Opposition Voiced Against Proposed Change In Fourth Avenue Zoning

Residents of the area which would be affected by the proposed change in Fourth Avenue zoning regulations continue to voice strong opposition at the second public hearing held on the matter last night.

Several spokesmen, representing most substantial property owners in the immediate vicinity, condemned the proposed ordinance from every angle, including a nod of censure to the Borough itself for permitting the downtown section to deteriorate to the point where business and professional men must look elsewhere for office space.

Under terms of the proposed ordinance, an R-4 residential district would be created along Fourth Avenue from a point about 200 feet east of Market to the center of Hickory Street, extending back 150 feet from the curb on both sides (with the exception of a smaller 100-foot depth running east on the south side of Fourth from approximately the west side of Gibson Apartments).

F. A. Beardsley of 402 Liberty Street said he could see no point in the amendment at all and that there was plenty of space elsewhere.

Florence Stone read a letter which her husband H. P. Stone had sent to the Borough Manager, pointing out the decreases in residential home values which would result from the ordinance.

Attorney David Swanson (who helped start it all by seeking office space in the former Mansion House) said he still favored the creation of an R-4 district, pointing out that he had readily found living quarters but had searched two years for office space.

Attorney W. Scott Calderwood, representing Mr. and Mrs. Paul Mead, said he favored the change because it would mean more "flexibility" in allowing owners to utilize their property.

Henry Lannan, who admitted he did not live in the area to be affected immediately, said he was still against the change because it would undoubtedly be a "prelude" to further changes along the length of Fourth Avenue. Mr. Lannan added that it was the purpose of zoning to protect property owners, and not to drive more tax dollars to out-of-borough residences.

Fiery Climax To Long Feud Looms Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—Wall Street Reuther and Sen. Goldwater (R-Ariz.) squared off today for what could be a fiery climax of their long feud.

Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers, was called to testify as possibly the final witness in the Senate Rackets Committee's probe of violence in the nearly four-year-old UAW strike against the Kohler Co., a Wisconsin maker of plumbing fixtures.

Goldwater, a member of the committee, long has been a critic of Reuther. The two have swapped unpleasanties at long range. A month ago, Reuther and Goldwater called each other cowards.

The UAW chief has accused Republican members of the committee of being biased and wanting to smear him and the auto workers union. Reuther has included Goldwater in this charge, along with Senators Mundt (R-SD) and Curtis (R-Nebr.).

Both sides or the Kohler strike have accused each other of violence which at times has marked the bitter dispute that started in April 1954.

"MRS. AMERICA" WINNER
WASHINGTON, Pa. (AP)—Mrs. James Shaner of Peters Twp., Washington County, last night won the Mrs. America contest sponsored by the Manufacturers Light & Heat Co.

Others entered in the contest were Mrs. Lee D. Morehouse of Bradford; Mrs. Don J. Christof, New Castle; Mrs. Joseph E. Feren, Conestoga; and Mrs. John Feaser, Littlestown.

Miss Woodward bought $125 worth of material and whipped up a dress and coat that looked all right among the high-priced Dior and Don Loper creations of the other movie queens.

Miss Woodward had an actress' tour de force in "The Three Faces of Eve"—and she did it the hard way. The picture was a true-life psychiatric study of a Georgia woman with a triple personality. Miss Woodward, a Georgian herself, did the sudden changes in continuity rather than shooting each personality separately.

McGonigle Wins First Place on G.O.P. Ballot

HARRISBURG (AP)—Edward Paul Lavelle, Scranton, a former State Capitol policeman, drew first place on the May 20 primary ballot today for the Democratic nomination for governor.

Arthur T. McGonigle, Reading, won the top place on the ballot for the Republican nomination for governor.

Lavelle is a political novice without organized backing. McGonigle, a pretzel manufacturer, is backed by the Republican state organization.

For U.S. senator, the first place winners were Rep. Hugh Scott, Philadelphia, Republican, and Clarence P. Bowers, Reading, Democrat.

Winners for first place for the other two statewide offices were: Lieutenant governor: Frank C. Hilton, Cambridge Springs, Republican, and John Morgan Davis, Philadelphia, Democrat.

Secretary of internal affairs: Sen. Albert R. Pechan, Ford City, Republican, and Michael A. Canavino, Erie, Democrat.

The drawing for place on the ballot was conducted by the state Elections Bureau.

Jaycee Chapter Plans Orientation Meeting Tonight

The 27 Jaycees who have joined the local chapter as a result of the recently completed membership drive will hear of the history, aims and purposes of the Junior Chamber of Commerce during an orientation meeting scheduled for 8:00 p. m. this evening in the Jaycee rooms over the Bradford Savings and Loan Building.

The purpose of the orientation periods is to instruct the new Jaycees in the reasons for the existence of this organization which is limited in membership to young men between the ages of 21 and 35, and to convey to the new Jaycees the many opportunities for self improvement which the Junior Chamber of Commerce affords all members.

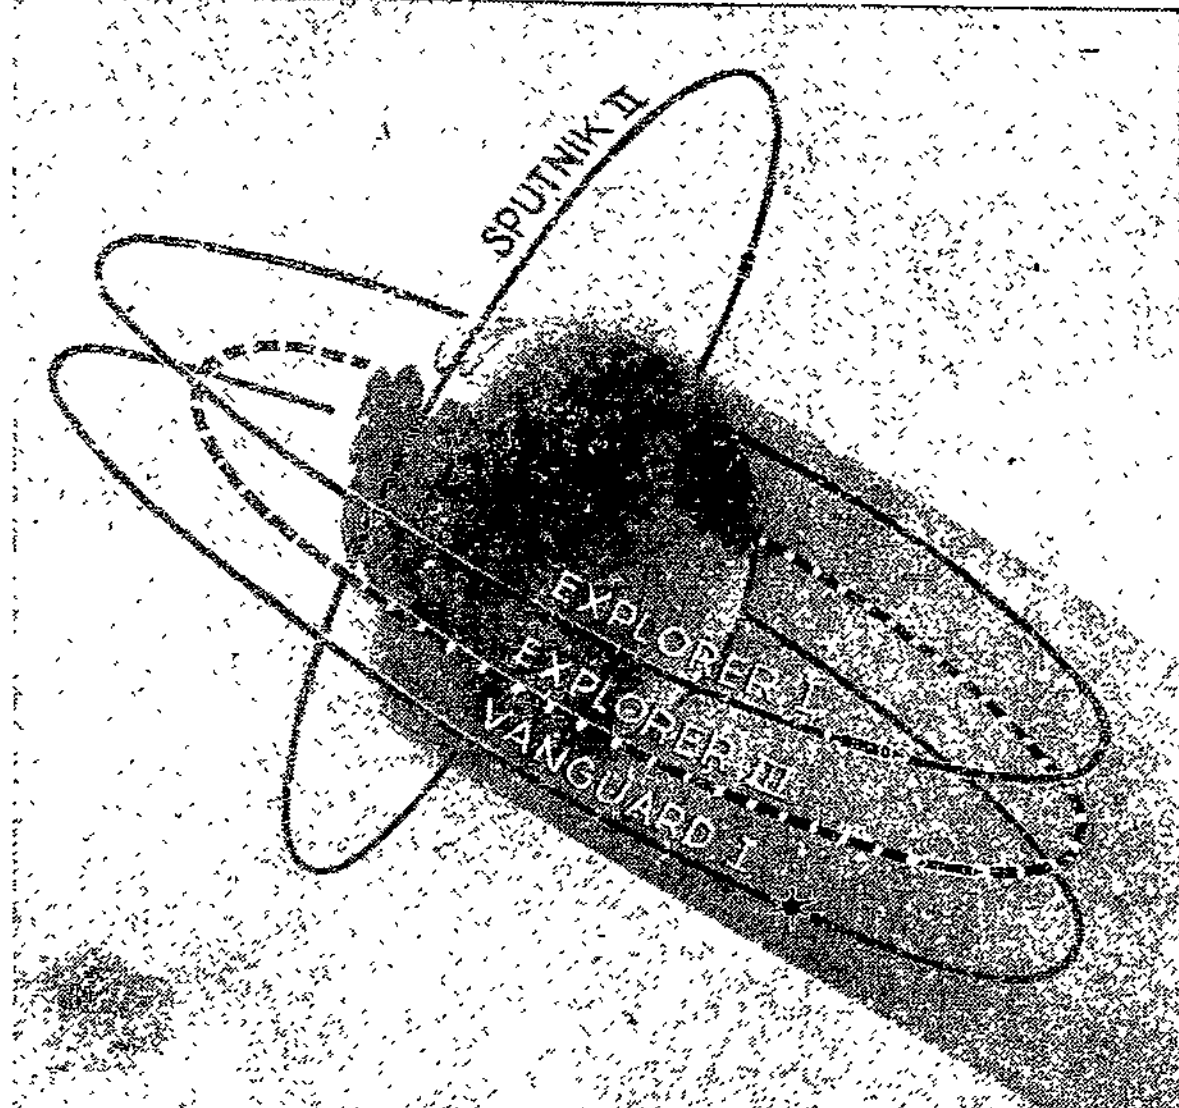

The local orientation period will be conducted by a team of long-time active members of the local chapter and will include (Turn to Page Twenty-one)

Trainmen Brotherhood Favors Leader Ticket

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Democratic organization ticket today had the endorsement of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen's legislative unit for the May 20 primary.

The trainmen group gave its backing to the ticket headed by Pittsburgh Mayor David L. Lawrence in a statement yesterday. The ticket includes Gov. Leader for the U.S. Senate nomination, Judge John Morgan Davis of Philadelphia for lieutenant governor and Miss Genevieve Blatt for secretary of internal affairs.

U. S. Puts Third Moon in Orbit

Explorer III (broken line) has joined Explorer I and Vanguard I and Russia's Suptnik II in orbit around the earth. The new satellite, almost an exact duplicate of Explorer I, was launched from Cape Canaveral, Fla. It reportedly deviated from its planned orbit and, according to Eberhard M. Rees, deputy for the Army's Missile Development Command, it is soaring too high—"upwards to 2,000 miles"—and coming closer to the earth's searing atmosphere than planned. The altitude at the lowest point was not given. (NEA News Sketch)

Ike Makes Public Timely Document On "Outer Space"

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower held out to all the world's people today the promise that studies of outer space can provide benefits for them and for their children.

Within hours after the United States had put its third satellite into orbit yesterday, Eisenhower made public a document in layman's language prepared by his Science Advisory Committee—an "Introduction to Outer Space."

Tangible benefits from better weather forecasting and communications were listed along with military advantages and less definite gains in scientific research as possibilities of the future.

The report emphasized scientific opportunities. It said there would be military advantages as well, especially in communications and reconnaissance. But it tended to discount talk of such things as satellite bombers and bases on the moon. It said these "appear to be clumsy and ineffective ways of doing a job."

It offered as a rough estimate that a couple billion dollars, spent over a period of years, could make it possible to send a man to the moon and return him safely.

But it said much more could be done by sending smaller space vehicles, with robot controls, to carry on explorations and radio data back.

Army Moon Dips and Soars Through Strangest "Orbit Pattern" Man Has Devised

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Explorer II, the world's newest satellite, dipped and soared today through the strangest orbit pattern man has yet established.

Its radio voice untrillingly transmitting information, the new Army moon 12 times each 24 hours soars up and up until it is about 1,700 miles out in space.

After each outward swing, it dips earthward into the thin upper reaches of the atmosphere, only about 110 miles up.

No other satellite is known to venture this close. Because of increasing atmospheric drag and the greater pull of gravity near the earth, Explorer-III is expected to have a relatively short life.

Maj. Gen. John B. Madaris, Air Force Missile Agency, which fired the new Explorer, told reporters it probably would not live longer than two weeks.

He said the men in charge were very happy with the performance of the rocket and satellite.

The odd orbit, he said, should prove to be of considerable benefit—"some substantial advantage"—to the over-all space research program.

He pointed out that the satellite, while venturing far out into space, also would explore air densities at the lower altitudes where it would overlap a region that had been measured by high altitude sounding rockets such as the Aerobee.

Thus far the first time science would have important (Turn to Page Twenty-two)

Holy Week Store Hours Announced

Therefore, next Wednesday, April 2 merchants will be open until 5 p. m. but on Friday, April 4 will close from 12 to 3 in cooperation with the Warren County Ministerial Association which annually holds Good Friday church services at that time.

Auditor General Denied Audit of Turnpike Books

HARRISBURG (AP)—The State Justice Department ruled today that Aud. Gen. Charles C. Smith has no authority to audit the books of the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission.

The ruling said the commission is an independent agency financed by public sale of bonds and receives no state money of any kind.

The turnpike agency, the ruling said, is not "considered an integral part of the executive branch of Pennsylvania's government."

Another ruling also given to Smith said there was no legal restriction to the Welfare Department reimbursing state-aided hospitals for free care and treatment to indigent persons not residents of Pennsylvania.

The same opinion also interpreted hospital regulations to mean that reimbursement will be allowed for the care of chronically ill persons for only the first 90 days of hospitalization.

NEW SOVIET LEADER IS GIVEN POWER SIMILAR TO THAT HELD BY LATE STALIN

By HAROLD K. MILKS
MOSCOW (AP)—Nikita S. Khrushchev became premier of the Soviet Union today, replacing Nikolai Bulganin. The shift makes Khrushchev head of both the Soviet government and the Communist party and invests him with a power comparable to that of the late Joseph Stalin.

Bulganin, as had been expected, submitted his resignation as premier to a joint session of the two houses of the Supreme Soviet. Bulganin had held the job since February, 1955.

Khrushchev's elevation to the premiership was announced to the Parliament by Marshal Klementi Voroshilov, chairman of the Supreme Soviet's Presidium and the equivalent of Soviet president. Voroshilov, 77, had been re-elected to his post a few minutes earlier.

Khrushchev received the action modestly. He stood with bowed head and did not join in the deputies' applause, but when it subsided he responded by clasping his hands above his head in a gesture reminiscent of a pugilist's salute to the crowd.

Then, with a smiling Bulganin seated behind him, Khrushchev moved to the speakers' microphone and told the deputies:

"You have just expressed great confidence in me by your decision and you have done me a great honor. I will do everything to justify your confidence and shall not spare strength, health or life to serve you."

MOSCOW (AP)—The recently elected Soviet Parliament opened its first session today to discuss the appointment of a new government, a ban on thermonuclear tests and four other agenda topics.

Strong indications were that the new government might exclude Marshal Nikolai Bulganin, premier for the last three years. And Hydrogen bomb tests might be banned by the Soviet Union alone in a dramatic bid to break the world disarmament deadlock.

Both steps have been widely predicted in the West.

The Council of Union, the first house in the Supreme Soviet, met for 56 minutes in a Kremlin hall with Communist party boss Nikita Khrushchev smiling over the proceedings.

Despite the expectations of Bulganin's replacement in the government, he was on hand three hours later for the opening of the other house of Parliament, the Council of Nationalities of which he is a member. There was warm applause as he entered with other members of the ruling Presidium who are on the Council.

A joint session for the two houses to get down to business was scheduled later today.

Khrushchev led a group of top officials into the hall as the Council of Union opened its session. With him were the nation's President, Klementi Y. Voroshilov, and its top woman official, Presidium member Ekaterina Furtseva.

The Council of Union adopted an agenda presented by the party leaders which included four topics for joint sessions: election of a Presidium of the Supreme Soviet to act in the Parliament's absence; appointment of a new government; discussion of Khrushchev's plan to reorganize the agricultural machinery system, (Turn to Page Twenty-two)

The move put Khrushchev in position to negotiate directly with President Eisenhower and other Western leaders at a summit conference—if one is ever arranged.

This could have been one reason for the Soviet Communist leader's decision to take over the premiership.

Britons Speculate About Townsend Visit to London

LONDON (AP)—Peter Townsend said today he and Princess Margaret have no intention of marrying.

Through his lawyer, Alan Phillips, Townsend issued this statement saying there are no grounds whatever for supposing that his seeing Princess Margaret in any way alters the situation declared specifically in her statement in the autumn of 1955.

The princess in October 1959 said she had decided to place duty above all else and not to marry the 43-year-old World War II hero.

Townsend's statement was released a day after his first open meeting with Margaret since she renounced him because he is a divorced man. His visit had revived speculation that the romance was being revived.

Before issuing his statement, Townsend paid a business call within 50 yards of Margaret's residence.

Secretary of Commonwealth Finnegan Dies of Cancer

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Secretary of the Commonwealth James A. Finnegan, who rose from the wards of West Philadelphia to national prominence in Democratic politics, died last night of cancer. He was 51.

Finnegan, who was campaign manager for Adlai Stevenson in the 1956 presidential race, had been ill for some time. He had been hospitalized on different occasions over the past few years. Death came shortly before midnight at Misericordia Hospital here.

The husky, broad-shouldered bachelor with his mane of prematurely gray hair and wide smile began his career more than 25 years ago, during the great depression. He started off as a division committeeman, or precinct captain, and soon was ward chairman. The late Francis J. Myers, then a congressman and later U.S. senator, was a close friend and political ally. As Myers' protégé, he rose quickly in Philadelphia Democratic circles. He became

Myers' secretary when the latter was a congressman and served in that post until the outbreak of service as a lieutenant colonel. When Finnegan came back to Philadelphia after the war he saw the chance to revitalize the city Democratic organization. He sought to interest returning veterans in politics and to bring new faces into the political picture.

Finnegan was elected city Democratic chairman in 1947 over bitter opposition from a large number of the city's ward leaders. In less than a year, he breathed new life into the party organization, healing up old splits and bringing about many changes in ward leaderships. Under his leadership, the Democrats began winning office again, and in 1951, Joseph S. Clark, now U.S. senator, became Philadelphia's first Democratic mayor in 68 years.

Under Finnegan's leadership, the city Democratic organization never lost an election. In 1952, when the Eisenhower landslide swept the nation, Philadelphia piled up a majority of 150,000 for Stevenson.

Plan Membership Drive for The Jaycee Concert Series

The membership drive for the 1958-59 Jaycee Concert Series will be climaxed by an intensive all-member canvass starting Sunday, April 13 and ending Sunday, April 20, it was announced today by Dana Harland, newly appointed Chairman of the Concert Series Committee.

The reorganization of the committee and an effort to determine some of the artists for next season's program necessitated this extension of the drive which was originally scheduled to finish on April 1.

A master list of all people who have been members of the series in any of the past three years is currently being compiled, according to Harland. Upon completion of this list, Jaycee committee members and members of the citizens group who have been instrumental in the success of past series, will be given a list of names to contact.

Harland said that a committee composed of three Jaycees and three members of the citizens group will meet next week to select the artists that will comprise the series next season. At least one and perhaps all of the artists names will be announced prior to the all-member canvass during the second week in April.

The Jaycees hope to have a membership of 600 adults and 300 students for the coming year. "Only with this size membership can the continution of the concert series be assured," Harland said.

Past members of the Concert Association who wish to purchase tickets prior to the concentrated drive in April can do so at either the United Cigar Store or the B & B Smoke Shop. Adult season tickets are $6.00 each and student tickets are $3.30 each.

Location Surveys Are Made in Erie-Pittsburgh Route

GREENVILLE, Pa. (AP)—The Erie-Pittsburgh-West Virginia Freeway Assn. says preliminary location surveys of the proposed multi-million-dollar highway have been completed on the sections between Mercer and Warren, Warrendale and Pittsburgh, and Pittsburgh and Washington, Pa.

Officers of the association said the surveys now are in the hands of the State Highways Dept. and the Federal Bureau of Public Roads. The association met in Greenville last night.

Similar surveys are underway on sections from Erie to Mercer and from Washington, Pa., to the West Virginia line, according to the association.

The association's board of directors, representing 10 western Pennsylvania counties, has urged the Highways Dept. to expedite construction of the proposed road because of depressed economic conditions in Western Pennsylvania.

All of the proposed highway has been approved for inclusion in the Federal Interstate Highway System except the stretch between Washington, Pa., and the West Virginia line. Ninety per cent of the construction cost would be paid by the Federal Government.

Officers said plans are under way for eventual construction of a major roadway from the Greater Pittsburgh Airport through the Beaver Valley to connect with the proposed Keystone Shortway in the vicinity of Mercer.

A similar-type road is planned, according to officers, to run from Pittsburgh to Brookville, connecting with the Shortway.

BOYLE'S COMMENT

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Ralph Beauty Marble Candy has gone away.

Ralph Beauty Marble Candy is never coming back.

In a woman's world, Ralph Beauty Marble Candy made the greatest possible masculine mistake. He mauled a young lady, the big bully. And so he has been exiled from civilization.

Ralph Beauty Marble Candy, who lasted less than two weeks in the big city, came here as the answer to a maiden's prayer. The maiden was our daughter, Tracy, nearly 5, who has been dictating notes of protest to Santa Claus ever since Christmas because he didn't bring her a kitten.

Finally, Frances, my wife, heard about Ralph Beauty Marble Candy. He lived with a suburban family that had two cats. Ralph Beauty fought the other cat. One had to go. It was put to a vote by the children of the family. Unanimously, they voted to keep the other cat.

So it was that Ralph Beauty, left homeless by popular demand, was brought to our house—strictly on trial—and given a chance to redeem himself in town.

"Is this a kitty?" asked Tracy dubiously as Ralph Beauty, who looks more like a dwarf lion, stepped from his carrying case.

But she threw her arms around him. She loves all animals passionately, and would have embraced him even if he were a real lion. Ralph Beauty thought the situation over deliberately for a full tenth of a second—then calmly scratched her, and stroled off. "Remember, he's just here on loan," cautioned Frances. "If he scratches you, he'll have to go back."

This was like telling a child not to stick beans up its nose. Tracy couldn't stay away from Ralph Beauty, and he couldn't get away from her. She was too young; he was too old. He scratched her less each day, but he still did scratch some. Tracy loyally tried to hide the scratches, shield him from blame.

But it soon became clear soon that Ralph Beauty Marble Candy would have to leave.

There came a day when Frances announced firmly: "I'm not going to let him turn Tracy into a human scratching post. Besides, all he does is eat, eat, eat—and listen to you read poetry."

Back into his carrying case went Ralph Beauty Marble Candy—out into the suburbs to join another family of gamblers.

"Goodbye, honey-honey," whispered Tracy, giving him a final squeeze. She didn't cry at all. She had been bribed with the promise of a real kitten to replace him.

Defiant to the end, Ralph Beauty gave her a friendly farewell scratch, and stalked disdainfully away—indeed forever.

What is it like to stare at the shambles of "what once was your home? Ask the family whose house and its contents were demolished on the Fargo, North Dakota, tornado, or the woman who will be an invalid for life after suffering injuries in the Kansas City tornadoes. When storms bring havoc into peoples' lives, your American Red Cross is on the job to give aid. Help keep its disaster fund in the black so you can aid an unknown neighbor in distress. Give now!

Boy Scout Troop 2 Family Night Is Much Enjoyed

At a family tureen dinner held in Grace Methodist church dining room Monday evening, Troop 2, one of Warren county's oldest registered Scout units, was awarded its 35th consecutive charter. The dinner was the occasion of charter renewal for Troop 2 and Post 2 and was attended by 150 parents and Scouts.

The charter was presented by Byron Knapp, representing the Boy Scout Council and giving a brief talk on Scouts, Scouting as a unit and organization the size of the Boy Scout movement.

Troop 2 has been a continuous troop for 35 years, with a membership of 40 boys and five leaders, Earl Mohnkern, Scoutmaster; Jim Palmer, Gail Blumber, Paul Reynolds and Jim Mohnkern, assistants.

The troop also has eight committeemen to help in the large program planned for the coming year.

Post 2 is one of the first Explorer posts organized in Warren and, except for a few years during World War II, has been chartered every year since its formation. It presently has 18 boys. Both units are sponsored by Grace church.

The troop committee is headed by Ralph Dalrymple; the Post committee by Ted Wood, with Carl L. Lindberg as post advisor, assisted by Dennis Hedges and Donald Pearson.

The charter presentation program followed the tureen dinner. The Rev. C. W. Baldwin, in a short talk, paid tribute to the men who spend so much of their time working with the Scouts and Explorers, to the boys, and to their parents for the excellent program being carried on by these units.

Scoutmaster Earl Mohnkern outlined the coming program with the following events being mentioned: father and son hike, an over-night campout, paper drive, and summer camp at Camp Olmsted. Announcement was made of the Scout Fair at Youngsville May 23-24. Troop 2 is planning a forestry display and has been busy all winter getting material ready, much of which was on display during the evening. A booth on Highway Safety and on Rifle Safety is being planned by Post 2.

A highlight of both troop and post in the past year's activities was a canoe trip down the Allegheny to Tonesta. Both units are planning another trip this year, the troop going the first weekend in June, the Post, the second weekend. For the post, this is planned as a reunion trip, with members now in college joining in.

After these announcements Byron Knapp was called upon for a few remarks and presented the two charters to Richard Moll, institutional representative, who, in turn, presented them to the chairman of each unit. They also presented membership cards to all in their unit.

First Class rank awards were given to Explorers Gary Beck, Arthur Elder, Van Johnson and Addison Scholes, Jr.; Star Scout, Remi Allen; Life Scout, Steve Summers, in Troop 2; merit badges to Scout Tom Lindberg and Explorers Beck, Johnson and Scholes.

CANADIAN ELECTION

It is one of the curious ironies that we in the United States seem to pay far more attention to national elections in Europe and more distant spots than we do to major balloting in Canada, our northern neighbor with whom we have long enjoyed extremely friendly and economically rewarding relations.

Right now the second national campaign in less than a year is under way north of the border, with the future of Prime Minister Diefenbaker's Conservative government—first in 22 years—at stake.

And the election there is of more than ordinary concern to Americans. Diefenbaker, disturbed by Canada's one-billion-dollar trade deficit with the United States, has instituted a policy of curbing imports from us in favor of larger imports from Great Britain.

The Liberal party, led in this election for the first time by the celebrated diplomat. Lester Pearson, opposes this policy as damaging to U. S.-Canadian relations.

We have no right to take sides in this combat. But our interest in the outcome March 31 cannot help but be great.

JET LINK TO PEACE

Everybody knows by now that U. S. airlines will be offering their customers jet transport travel in 1959. What they may not fully realize is that this could include flights between the United States and Russia.

Without too much fanfare, we have concluded a commercial air treaty with the Soviet Union. The obvious intent is New York-Moscow jet air service next year or perhaps a bit later.

The CAB already has authorized Pan American World Airways to set up service on such a run. Unfortunately the Russian carrier, Aeroflot, is not a member of the International Air Transport Association and there may be some delay, consequently, in arranging the details of Soviet reciprocal service to this country. But it is assumed matters will be ironed out.

To the degree that this marks a prospective further opening up of relations between East and West, it is an advance much to be sought after.

LONE HERO

There are lots of ways to buck a trend. Some people try to do it with talk. Some dig in and work against the current. Now and then somebody dares to toss his own dollars into the effort to turn things around.

Businessmen who try to reverse an economic downspin by investing heavily in new plants and equipment are an admirable but an old story. Not too often does an employer attempt to up-end the business indexes by putting more cash directly into the consumer's pocket.

That's what Samuel Schiff, a trade journal publisher in Detroit, is doing. For four weeks running, he's handing each of his 14 employees an extra $5 in his paycheck. He calls it "confidence spending money."

He feels everybody's holding back from spending because of lack of confidence. He thinks that's foolish, and he wants his little bonuses spent as soon as they're received.

One man standing out against a trend is quite a sight. If and when the national business curves upward, we ought to remember Samuel Schiff and his personal assault on the 1958 recession.

Daily Lenten Devotions
from The Upper Room

Read John 1:14-18.

Of his fullness we all received, and grace for grace. For the law was given through Moses; grace and truth came through Jesus Christ. (John 1:16-17)

We were at prayer meeting in the lean-to chapel back of the church in Cheng Tu, West China. A hymn had been sung. The Chinese pastor read a few verses of Scripture and commented on them.

At my left, in the end of the seat, sat a poor man. I had never before seen him. He followed others in prayer. One sentence in his prayer in Chinese has clung to my memory through the years as a real blessing.

To express the same idea in English requires more words and also loses some of its force. Using Chinese words of strength, he said, "Most earnestly we beseech God to add grace to grace."

The poor man may not have been well-versed in the classics, but he certainly knew God and the Bible and practiced the grace of obedience.

PRAYER

Dear Lord, we thank Thee for the inspiration of prayers we have heard. Some of them have abiding blessings to us. Add grace to grace in our lives that we may be a help to others, as others have been a blessing to us. In Christ's name and for His sake. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

This day I will pray and practice the grace of obedience.—Harry L. Canright (Florida).

UGH! WHITE MAN HEAP BIG INDIAN GIVER

Here and There

Says an item on the first page of the Bradford Era under the heading "New 'Sky-Line' Drive Looms on Area Horizon": A new "sky-line" drive is looming on the area horizon because of the necessity of by-passing sections of Rt. 59 in the path of construction of the proposed Kinzua Dam. The first of a section of by-pass projects will be put up for bids by the state in June, according to an unofficial announcement Monday. The series of dam encirclements for Rt. 59 will result in a so-called "sky-line" drive at the south line of the reservoir by way of Kinzua and the old state road into Marshburg. On the indefinite side, however, are various projects in the Allegheny National Forest which hinge on construction of the dam.

With the time of year rolling around again for new drivers' licenses and the like, Warren Mirror carried this article fifty years ago: "Warren authorities have received from the state department of highways at Harrisburg copies of the licensed drivers of auto motor vehicles in the state. According to this report, which covers the first two months of the year 1908. January and February, the total number of licenses issued in Pennsylvania is 9,597. The greater number of licenses were taken out during the month of January, and the amount fell noticeably during the next month. Warren has a large number of motor cars, and owners of these are warned of the necessity of securing the proper license to drive their cars. All such licenses expire January 1, so it will be seen that the last year's license does not cover the ground. It is also worth while remembering that a license is issued not to the machine but to the man driving the machine and the man to whom the license is issued alone is the only one eligible to drive the car. Some day the authorities will probably take up the matter of speeding on the public thoroughfares of the city, and attempt to enforce the speed law. Complaints are being made against certain automobile owners, who pay little heed to the limit set by law and tear along at a rate sufficient to frighten gods and men."

★ EDSON IN WASHINGTON

America Is in High Gear, Visit to Canaveral Proves

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla.—(NEA)—The half dozen launchings scheduled at the Air Force missile test center here for the last week in March give evidence of the stepped-up scale of America's space program.

Listed for countdown are an Air Force Intercontinental Atlas, an Army Jupiter C with Explorer III satellite, an Air Force intermediate range Thor, two Bomarcas, a Snark and miscellaneous Matadors. No date has yet been set for the Navy's next Vanguard firing with satellite.

A two-day tour of installations at Patrick Air Force Base and its auxiliary installations 18 miles to the north on the cape, shows what a big business it has become.

Government and missile contractors have 400 million dollars invested here. Its operational budget is close to 100 millions a year—and it is growing.

THE BASE NOW HAS 16,000 personnel—military, Civil Service and civilian contractor. The figure will be 18,000 in a year. The base operates 17 hours a day. Contractors are allowed all the overtime they need.

"Hundreds"—the exact number isn't revealed—but literally hundreds of missiles have been fired here since the base was opened in 1950 as a joint proving ground for the three services. Its 5,000-mile range is now extended to Ascension Island in the South Atlantic.

The test center has a normal firing routine of a missile a day. It has actually fired three in one day.

The three launching areas on the two ocean-front sides of the triangular cape now have 20 launching pads. There is room to build more as needed.

Each complex—launching platform, gantry service towers (as high as 12-story buildings) and control blockhouse—represents a cost of up to four million dollars apiece.

THESE ARE FOR MISSILES launched from the ground. Harbor facilities where the Navy's Polaris missile can be tested are now under construction.

A satellite to orbit north and south around the poles could not be launched here under present ground safety rules. Missiles to reach the moon might be difficult to launch from the Cape because of earth rotation factors.

But the first of everything else would probably have to be tested here, says the base commander, Maj. Gen. Donald N. Yates.

PUBLIC MISCONCEPTIONS have grown up about what goes on here, General Yates believes. Test firings that explode seem to get the most publicity. This gives the whole U.S. missile program a black eye.

The test center considers a launching successful if it yields the scientific data desired—even if the missile blows up. Often these data are obtained in the first few seconds or minutes of flight.

Another factor frequently forgotten is that these are research missiles. They are not operational weapons suitable for combat use. When a missile is delivered here for testing, it has to be modified. Instead of carrying a warhead, it is loaded with an equivalent weight of complicated electronic gear. This is what costs so much and takes so much time to ready.

Missiles are not considered operational until they have been fully tested by the builder and are ready to turn over to troops for training and firing in the field. Of some 35 U.S. missiles now under development not more than half a dozen in the first family can be considered fully operational.

Bethlehem Steel President A. B. Homer says new uses of steel are steadily increasing, brightening the industry horizon.

Republic Steel reports its new research center has great hopes for a new process for direct reduction of iron ore. It stresses also lead and tin plated sheets used in fuel tanks and air filters on cars and trucks; asbestos-asphalt coated steel pipe; asbestos-asphalt coated culverts.

Sharon Steel expects great things from its stainless carbon or coated strip with a third dimension surface which can simulate fabrics, leathers, wood grains, as well as pebbled surfaces and geometric patterns.

Its Sharonart products are designed for use as interior and exterior wall panels, trim and moulding on cars and planes, conveyor belts, furniture and lamp bases, for handbag frames and costume jewelry.

James & Laughlin has a new line of high-strength tubular products for the deeper wells the oil industry now drills.

The Wire Reinforcement Institute predicts that the spurt in the federal highway program will boost use of welded wire fabrics for concrete reinforcement.

The Stainless Steel Producers Council sees a big field in super-sonic missiles and warplanes, and in nuclear power plants and submarines.

Allegheny Ludlum, a leading stainless maker, cites many new uses and sees a widening field in metal-clad skyscrapers—where competition with other materials is keen.

Office furniture is the scene of a like battle. First the traditional wooden office desk met competition from steel furniture and then staged a comeback with new styling and extras. Now steel is slugging back with a variety of colors, rounded corners, easier rolling drawers, sound-deadened interiors.

Example of a fight within the family: some cars now use carbon steel torsion bars instead of steel springs, and stainless steel auto trim instead of plated metal.

South Street PTA Has Reports and Hears Speaker

Mrs. Robert Patchen, president of South Street PTA, opened the March meeting, with Mrs. Wayne Miller leading devotions.

During the business session, routine reports were heard; a letter read by Mrs. Bernice Morgan from Council announced the District Conference to be held at Franklin High School Saturday, May 3, from 9:00 a. m. to 3:00 p. m.

South Street unit is entitled to four voting delegates, besides the president or her representative. It is hoped there will be a good turnout from Warren and a chartered bus will leave Liberty street early Saturday morning, returning about 5:30 p. m.

Opportunity will be afforded to gain much useful information concerning functions of a successful PTA, with classes on programming, publicity, raising and using PTA funds, parent education, juvenile protection, and other topics. It is good practice to meet with other leaders and learn what is being done on higher levels of PTA work.

It was also stated South Street PTA received the highest rating, 20 points, for programs which have been under the very capable direction of Fred Olson. Mrs. Patchen reported for Council, stressing the Franklin Conference and the Green River Ordinance.

Appointed as auditing committee were Mrs. Anderson, sixth grade teacher, with Anthony Ornelo and Donald Johnson; nominating committee, Miss Tillotson, second grade teacher, with Mrs. Jensen and Mrs. King; attendance award went to Mrs. Anderson's sixth grade.

Fred Olson introduced Jaycee Youth Ambassador Dawn Taft, who showed slides she had taken while in Switzerland. Her talk held her audience spellbound and her pictures must be seen if one is to believe the breath-taking beauty of the Swiss scenery captured by her camera. The PTA extols Miss Taft for a job well done.

Mrs. Willis Ticknor was assisted by Mrs. Stanley Pearson and Mrs. John Novak for refreshments. The latter fashioned the clever centerpiece, a large Irish hat carved of wood, with a cluster of shamrocks in its hand.

It's a Compliment to Wife When Hubby Won't Go Solo

WHEN a man wants his wife along with him wherever he goes, you can be sure it is for one, several, or all of the following reasons:

He is proud of her looks. That doesn't mean she is young and beautiful—only that she is an attractive-looking woman of whatever age she happens to be.

She knows how to ease the way for him socially. A wife who is a charming and gracious woman who can put others at ease and say just the right word to bridge an awkward moment is a tremendous help to any man.

She is his best press agent. That doesn't mean she brags about him in obvious ways, but that she has a subtle knack for playing up his best qualities.

She is a good sport. It isn't any fun for a man to take his wife on a business trip or to a convention or on a hunting or fishing trip—or anywhere else for that matter—if she is hard to please and easily upset over trifles or if she puts her own personal comfort above all else.

A QUIET COMPANION

SHE doesn't talk all of the time. The man who is married to a woman who never stops talking is usually looking for excuses for getting away by himself occasionally. You won't find him insisting that his wife go with him wherever he goes.

She is fun to have around, having a natural interest and curiosity and gaiety that makes any experience more exciting if she shares it. She isn't too critical of other people. A woman who is always picking others to pieces is depressing to any man.

Weed-Crooks Rites Announced

The marriage of Miss Louise Kay Crooks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Guy H. Crooks, Corydon, to Lewis H. Weed, son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Weed of Erie, was solemnized in Appleton, N. Y., Wesleyan Methodist church March 7 by the Rev. Nelson D. Crowell, pastor.

Mrs. Nelson Crowell, organist, presented traditional wedding music, including "O Perfect Love". Attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Herman Weed, Alcott, N. Y.

The bride wore a white street length dress, designed by Bill Blass, featuring short sleeves and scoop neckline. With it she wore navy accessories and a red rose corsage.

Her attendant wore a blue princess line dress, with short sleeves and scalloped square neckline, black accessories and corsage of red carnations.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church parsonage.

Mrs. Weed, who graduated from Bradford Senior High School and attended Washington Missionary College in Washington, D. C., formerly taught church school in Lowville and Eldred. During the past year, she has been employed as an electro-cardiogram technician at Warren General Hospital.

Her husband attended Wilson,

N. Y., schools and served in the Air Force, spending five years in Alaska. He is now associated with Eastern Greyhound Lines, and they will reside in Cleveland.

The newlyweds were honored with a dinner at Green Acres, Alcott, N. Y., by Mr. and Mrs. Herman Weed; also with miscellaneous showers given by Mrs. John Verolmi of Kushequa and Mrs. Lloyd Smith, Corydon.

Garden Club Hears Humorous Approach to Greenhouse Building

"How Not to Build a Greenhouse" was the subject of a very humorous talk given by Mrs. Robert Voigt at the March meeting of Warren Garden Club, held Thursday evening in the YWCA activities building. The following highlights proved most entertaining:

It seems that a long time remaining for a greenhouse could no longer be fought off and ate in the fall the speaker yielded and accumulated a large stack of catalogs. From these a good and adequate "Do-it-yourself" unit was ordered. In the process of selection all fancy slogans and high-powered advertising were avoided in favor of more conservative claims. The real selling point was the ease with which, with a little devoted work, the erection could be carried out, to say nothing about the fun and sense of satisfaction one would enjoy when completed.

Never build a greenhouse on a portion of the lot that cannot be reached by the trucks hauling the material. A wheelbarrow is a handy device to have about the premises but it loses some of its glamour after about the 64th trip from the front curb to the back lot loaded with cement blocks. Family relationships must be real solid to stand up after all that exercise.

Freezing weather is a deterrent to the Do-it-Yourself addict, particularly when the doing must be done outdoors. The basement is a much better place to work, and that is just where the speaker decided to assemble the sides and ends of her house. Of course much lugging and hauling of redwood and glass from the front porch and lawn had to be done before this aspect of the venture could be started. But, sure enough the assembling in the basement went along very well, even though it did have to be erected around the furnace.

Getting the completed sides out of the basement was no trouble at all, but when it came to taking the ends through the doorway it was discovered that they were a little too tall. That was promptly remedied by removing the door, frame and a part of the back of the house. It would help too if the glass was all cut to the right size, or else the company selling the greenhouse should add a couple dozen extra panes to practice on.

Putty doesn't work up very well in cold weather and much running from the kitchen stove to the site of erection could be avoided if one picked a nice warm day in August to do the glazing. And a heater designed for a greenhouse of similar size in southern Texas is just not adequate for this climate.

The goal was finally reached after much hard work and strains on the family ties. Seeds were planted on Christmas day. In spite of the many inconveniences and labor, the pleasure and satisfaction since completion has made it worth while. The catalog was right. But, next time start in the spring.

Another feature of the program was the surprise flower arrangement. Three members selected by number each made an arrangement of cut flowers contributed by Mrs. Voigt. The winner, Mrs. Maxwell Arnold,

Mr. and Mrs. Warren P. Smith, Mapleton Depot RD, Penna., announce the engagement of their daughter, Evadene Deloris, to George Everett Wilbur, son of George C. Wilbur, Clarendon, Miss. Smith, graduate of Saltillo Joint High School and a student at the Lewis-town Hospital School of Nursing, is currently completing her second year of training at Children's Hospital in Pittsburgh. Mr. Wilbur, graduate of Warren High School and the Pennsylvania State University, is a member of the faculty of Southern Huntingdon County Joint High School. A fall wedding has been planned.

was presented a pot of hyacinths, also donated by Mrs. Voigt. These were a product of her own greenhouse. The door prize, a cineraria contributed by Mrs. C. J. Cray, was won by Mrs. Grover Land.

Delicious refreshments were served after the meeting by a committee chairmaned by Mrs. Mohney.

Literature Department Ends Current Season

The final meeting of the Woman's Club Literature Department for the current season was held Monday afternoon, when Mrs. R. H. Israel gave an entertaining account of Warren County local authors.

Mrs. James Potter announced the concert to be given by Richard Sidey at First Presbyterian church next Monday afternoon at two, followed by tea at the Woman's Club.

The semi-formal dance at the club April 12 was announced by Mrs. Neil Donovan, who reminded tickets may be secured from members of the Entertainment Committee.

The slate of departmental officers for next year was announced as follows: Mrs. Gerald Archibald, chairman; Mrs. James Potter, vice chairman; and Mrs. Merle Kremer, secretary.

Mrs. W. E. Yeager was hostess for tea, assisted by Mrs. James Barrett and Mrs. Robert Marlin.

PTA Council Enjoys Scout Refreshments

At the March meeting of Warren Community PTA Council, held in Jefferson School auditorium, refreshments were served at 7:15 by Girl Scout Troop 4.

Mrs. Rulander, president, called the meeting to order at 8:00 p. m. Minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved; the treasurer's report showed a balance of $159.

Communications were read from Margaret Bailey, one of the recipients of the 1957 PTA Scholarship; Warren General Hospital, Warren Library Association, and Beatty Junior High School, thanking Council for presenting them with a subscription to the National Parent-Teacher Magazine.

Mrs. Knowlton reported on the play "Robin Hood's Treasure". Mr. Olson gave an extensive report for the Scholarship Committee, stating there is a balance of $1,080.63, several applications have been received and are now in the hands of the qualifications committee.

Mrs. Rulander announced the spring conference of the District will be in Franklin May 3 and urged that all units send delegates, especially new officers.

Some discussion was held about the Green River Ordinance of the borough and motion was passed that Council send in a formal protest to this ordinance. Another motion was passed that Council write to congressmen of the federal government recommending that the Teachers' Salary and School Construction bills be passed.

The next session will be held at the Penn-Laurel Motel May 15, a dinner-meeting, with wives and husbands of Council members invited.

A nominating committee was appointed: Mrs. William Welch of McClintock, chairman; Mrs. Warren Rohlin, Jefferson; Mrs. Joseph Bunk, Lacy; Mrs. Ira Brown, East; Mrs. David Demel, South.

Dr. Whipple reported on progress of plans for the new high school.

RESUME OF NORTH WARREN SCOUT EVENTS

The program for Girl Scout Troop 35 of North Warren in the past several weeks has included interesting sessions at which were heard two excellent speakers.

Loyal Briggs, teacher at Beatty Junior High School, met with the group for instruction and discussion of requirements for the Personal Health badge. Troop 19, also of North Warren, had a meeting with girls of Troop 35 to see two fascinating reels of nature films taken by Dr. W. W. Hughes, member of Warren State Hospital staff.

Future plans for the group include an early spring overnight camping trip, troop camping at Birdsall Edey, and a rummage sale.

Imaginative Theme for Beatty Show Features 'Three Wishes of Wendy'

The Spring Show at Beatty Junior High School this year is featuring the story "Three Wishes of Wendy", an account of a young girl left out of other children's games and fun and what happens to her when she finds an odd-looking bottle from which a genie appears to give her three wishes and bring her happiness.

Wendy will be played by Jill Shackett tonight, by Peggy Holt on Friday evening; the genie will be portrayed by Fred Haer and the fairy princesses will be Nancy Coyle and Diane Daugherty.

First scene in the show features the Seventh Grade Chorus, singing "Thumbelina" and "Boats of Mine". Accompanying the singers at the piano will be Murray Foreman.

Scene Two features a Candy-land theme, where Ginny Cunningham as Sugar and Bill Eldridge, in the role of Spice, conduct a tour to the tune of "The Good Ship Lollipop", while Anne Lewis and Diane Anderson, dressed like lollipops, interpret the theme in a dance.

This will be followed by "two pieces of hard rock candy", played by Rodney Betts and Cecelia Smith, in "The Big Rock Candy Mountain". To conclude Wendy's trip to Candy-land, six Sugar Plum Fairies, Lee Ritchie, Mary Fago, Judy Schager, Connie Mealy, Pat Lowe and Barbara Olskey, will do a ballet, "Dance of the Sugar Plum Fairies".

Scene Three will present the Eighth Grade Chorus, singing "Annie Laurie Chapinac" and a Czechoslovakian folk dance. Curtain Two will feature a folk dance with accordion accompaniment by Guy Smith, with Eva Marie VonChamier and Mike Rice as the dancers.

As the magic carpet carries them on to Curtain Three, Scene Two, Helene McClure, dressed as a snake, will slither out of a basket to present a snake dance. The snake charmer will be Linda Ahlgren, with her oboe, alternating evenings with Mary Ann Reynolds.

Rock-n-Roll will open Curtain Four, with Barb Zaffino and Jim Siliano displaying their bop talents, while David Kiffer

PLEASANT SCOUT UNITS ENJOY TOURS

The Teen Patrol of Pleasant Girl Scout Troop 51 completed requirements for the Photography badge this week, when members visited the McIntosh Studio. Owner Virg Zetterlin gave the girls an informative talk on cameras, explaining timing, exposure, and answering all questions.

Following this session he conducted the girls on a tour of the work rooms of the Studio. Furnishing transportation and supervision for the trip were Mrs. Clarence Hendrickson, Mrs. Lee Hannold, Mrs. Ross Wood and Mrs. Rex Confer.

Brownies of Pleasant Troop 78 also enjoyed an interesting and informative tour of the Anderson Baking Company plant in Fourth avenue this week. After the tour, the girls were treated to cookies and were presented a pencil as a memento. In the group were 25 Brownies, with their leaders, Mrs. Florence Pring and Mrs. Myrtle Confer, and three mothers who provided transportation, Mrs.

Burleigh, Mrs. Farrell and Mrs. Haight.

Next week's regular Wednesday afternoon meeting will be in the form of an Easter party, to which mothers of Brownies are invited.

MISSIONARIES ARE NAZARENE GUESTS

Mrs. Willis Anderson, returned missionary from India, will be speaking at the Sunday evening service in First Church of the Nazarene.

The Andersons have been missionaries to India for the past 22 years, still retaining their membership in the local church, Mr. Anderson having spent his earlier years in Warren. They arrived in the United States about a week ago, after an extensive tour from their missionary field.

Both were welcomed home last evening at the midweek service of the local church, speaking briefly. In addition, Mr. Anderson played special selections and sang in an Indian language.

ALL URGED TO SEE FILM—Warren County Youth for Christ extends a cordial invitation to all its friends to see "Centerville Awakening", a feature sound-motion picture film, at Bethel EUB church Saturday evening. The picture portrays dramatically what can happen to a church, its people, and pastor and they yield their lives to God. It was produced in close collaboration with ministers of many denominations who share the conviction that, given a chance, the Holy Spirit can work mightily in hearts and lives today.

Mozart Visitors Give Program at Philomel

Philomel Club members were delighted with an outstanding program presented by Mozart Club members of Jamestown Wednesday afternoon at the Woman's Club. This event is always eagerly anticipated from year to year and the 1958 visit and program exceeded all expectations.

Mrs. Neil Paterson, Philomel president, welcomed the guests and introduced Mrs. Arnold Sundell, who presented the following members of her club for the program:

Mrs. Russell H. Schulte, Mrs. George H. Tolley, Mrs. Clifford Larson, Miss Florence Sandberg, Mrs. Robert Wettingfield, Mrs. Willard Perlee and Mrs. William F. Osmer.

Tea was served by Mrs. Norman Gross and her committee from a table beautifully decorated with silver candelabra and lovely spring flowers. Mrs. Bernard Goffberg and Mrs. W. S. Loding presided.

WARREN ART GROUP

Many members of Warren Art Group gathered in the studio Thursday evening to experience an enjoyable and profitable period. Vernon Mauk, of Beatty Junior High School faculty, demonstrated different techniques in water color use, and brought with him some of his own water colors done in national parks of the country. His work was inspected during the social hour which followed the work session.

STENOGRAPHERS' CLUB PLANS ANNUAL SHOW

Warren High School Stenographers' Club has planned its annual Style Show for 8:00 p. m. April 10 in the school auditorium, with tickets available from any member; from the advisor, Mrs. McClure; or at the door the night of the affair.

Using a "College Weekend" theme, club members will model dresses, casuals, sportswear and formal wear from Stein's; hats and accessories from Jean Carol's. Selections are planned to appeal to both Senior and Junior High School girls. There will be planned entertainment between scenes and a special award for some lucky attendant.

BRIDE-ELECT IS GUEST FOR SHOWER

SUGAR GROVE—Janet Jordan of Lottsville, whose marriage to Jerry Frank will take place April 5, was honored at a bridal shower Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Leonard Briggs, with Mrs. Lowell White the assisting hostess.

Prize in the evening's entertainment went to Mrs. Harland Brown, Mrs. Marvin Thorpe and Mrs. Stanley Meelen. Miss Jordan received a variety of gifts from the 13 guests. Present from out of town were Mrs. Clarence White, Ashville; Mrs. Gail Frank, Lakewood.

CLARENDON PTA

Mrs. Kenneth Knight, president, conducted the March session of Clarendon Borough PTA, when William Rhoades led devotions followed by Pledge of Allegiance. Routine reports were given and communications read by Mrs. Paul Lobdell. It was decided the unit will furnish a treat for members of the School Safety Patrol. Mrs. John Sleeman named chairman of the event. Bruce Harding, of Warren General Hospital, spoke on "History of X-Rays," stressing the fact that x-rays are not harmful to persons but very helpful in detecting diseases of the body. In conclusion, refreshments were served by Mrs. Robert Nerthing and Mrs. William Hollister.

EAST STREET UNIT

Mrs. Clifford Knowlton, president, conducted the business session of the March meeting of East Street PTA, followed by a panel discussion with LeRoy Schneck as moderator, the panel consisting of Dr. Krespan, Mrs. Newman and Dan Troxell on the topic "Sense and Nonsense of Fluoridation". In conclusion, refreshments were served by first grade mothers with Mrs. Richard Tranter, Mrs. Julius Fino and Mrs. Harry Grimes as hostesses.

TIONA LADIES AID

Tiona Ladies Aid members are meeting in the church dining room this afternoon following a one o'clock dessert luncheon. Miss Cora Templeton and Mrs. Howard Watson are co-hostesses, and a business session will follow.

YOUNGSVILLE UNIT PLANS ACTIVITIES

YOUNGSVILLE—Mrs. Richard Giegerich, president, conducted the Monday evening meeting of Youngsville PTA, opening with the Lord's Prayer and Pledge of Allegiance. It was announced the card party "snowed under" in February has been rescheduled for April 14, with Mrs. Charlotte Dalrymple as general chairman.

It was voted to send in-come new officers to the Northwest District convention at Franklin May 3; named as a nominating committee to report at the next meeting were Mrs. Orrie Maasz, Mrs. John Wheeler and Mrs. Dora Hajnik. Mrs. Giegerich, PTA representative on the Community Development Committee, reported on its meeting; Mrs. Marge Finlan's sixth grade won the attendance award.

The program chairman, Mrs. Gordon Kay, introduced the guest speaker, Dr. Alfred Vogt, of Warren State Hospital staff, who talked interestingly on "Discipline, Mental Health and Your School". A lively question and answer period followed, after which refreshments were served in the cafeteria by sixth grade mothers.

IRVINGDALE PTA

The March meeting of Irvingdale PTA was held in the form of a family tureen dinner with about 300 attending. Devotions were led by Mrs. Archie Brown. Dawn Taft, Jaycees Youth Ambassador to Switzerland, gave a talk and showed slides, followed by a White Elephant sale. Refreshment committee was composed of Mr. and Mrs. Guilford Branch, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Maronek, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Johnson.

THURSDAY CIRCLE

Members of the Russell Methodist Circle will meet at the home of Mrs. Emil Olson, with Mrs. Larry Warner as co-hostess. All members are urged to be present for the eight o'clock meeting.

ERROR IN NAME

Incorrectly given in the Wednesday issue was the name of Miss Felicia Passaro, elected secretary of Delta Kappa Gamma sorority chapter for the coming year.

CLASS MEETING

GR Class members of Epworth Methodist church will hold their regular meeting at the church at eight o'clock this evening.

WILL SHOW FILM

A film, "Centerville Awakening", will be shown at the Stillson Hill Community church at 8:00 p. m. Friday and the public is welcome.

THE MARKETS

NEW YORK—(AP)—Some airline shares advanced as the stock market was mixed with a slightly higher tendency in quiet early trading today.

Changes of fractions to around a point were the rule for most key stocks. The opening was fairly active and irregular.

Award by the Civil Aeronautics Board of four trunkline air routes between Great Lakes Cities and St. Louis into Florida helped some of the lines.

Some leading steels and a few selected issues showed a firmer tone. Most important market groups showed a little change. Chemicals produced some scattered losers. Motors were barely changed although Ford dropped a fraction.

American Stock Exchange prices and corporate bonds were mixed.

Garden Club Hears Humorous Approach to Greenhouse Building

"How Not to Build a Greenhouse" was the subject of a very humorous talk given by Mrs. Robert Voigt at the March meeting of Warren Garden Club, held Thursday evening in the YWCA activities building. The following highlights proved most entertaining:

It seems that a long time ago a greenhouse could no longer be fought off and late in the fall the speaker related and accumulated a huge sack of catalogs. From these good and adequate "Do-it-yourself" unit was ordered. In the process of selection all any slogans and high-powered dvertising were avoided in favor of more conservative laments. The real selling point was the ease with which the little devoted work, the erection could be carried out, to say nothing about the fun and ease of satisfaction one would enjoy when completed.

Never build a greenhouse on a portion of the lot that cannot be reached by the trucks hauling the material. A wheelbarrow is a handy device to have about the premises but it poses some of its glamour after about the 64th trip from the front curb to the back lot loaded with cement blocks. Family relationships must be real solid to stand up after all that exercise.

Freezing weather is a deterrent to the Do-It-Yourself addict, particularly when the long must be done outdoors.

The basement is a much better place to work, and that is just where the speaker decided to assemble the sides and ends of her house. Of course much lugging and hauling of redwood and glass from the front porch and lawn had to be done before this aspect of the venture could be started. But, sure enough the assembling in the basement went along very well, even though it did have to be erected around the furnace.

Getting the completed sides out of the basement was no trouble at all, but when it came to taking the ends through the doorway it was discovered that they were a little too tall. That was promptly remedied by removing the door, frame and a part of the back of the house. It would help too if the glass was all cut to the right size, or else the company selling the greenhouse should add a couple dozen extra panes to practice on.

Putty doesn't work up very well in cold weather and much running from the kitchen stove to the site of erection could be avoided if one picked a nice warm day in August to do the glazing. And a heater designed for a greenhouse of similar size in southern Texas is just not adequate for this climate.

The goal was finally reached after much hard work and strains on the family ties. Seeds were planted on Christmas day. In spite of the many inconveniences and labor, the pleasure and satisfaction since completion has made it worth while. The catalog was right. But, next time start in the spring.

Another feature of the program was the surprise flower arrangement. Three members selected by number each made an arrangement of cut flowers contributed by Mrs. Voigt. The winner, Mrs. Maxwell Arnold, was presented a pot of hyacinths, also donated by Mrs. Voigt. These were a product of her own greenhouse. The door prize, a cineraria contributed by Mrs. C. J. Crary, was won by Mrs. Grover Lund.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren P. Smith, Mapleton Depot Rd., Penna., announce the engagement of their daughter, Evadene Deloris, to George Everett Wilbur, son of George C. Wilbur, Clarendon. Miss Smith, graduate of Saltillo Joint High School and a student at the Lewis-town Hospital School of Nursing, is currently completing her second year of training at Children's Hospital in Pittsburgh. Mr. Wilbur, graduate of Warren High School and the Pennsylvania State University, is a member of the faculty of Southern Huntingdon County Joint High School. A fall wedding has been planned.

Delicious refreshments were served after the meeting by a committee chairmaned by Mrs. Mohney.

Literature Department Ends Current Season

The final meeting of the Woman's Club Literature Department for the current season was held Monday afternoon, when Mrs. R. H. Israel gave an entertaining account of Warren county local authors.

Mrs. James Potter announced the concert to be given by Richard Sidey at First Presbyterian church next Monday afternoon at two, followed by tea at the Woman's Club.

The semi-formal dance at the club April 12 was announced by Mrs. Neil Donovan, who reminded tickets may be secured from members of the Entertainment Committee.

The slate of departmental officers for next year was announced as follows: Mrs. Gerald Archibald, chairman; Mrs. James Potter, vice chairman; and Mrs. Merle Kremer, secretary.

Mrs. W. E. Yeager was hostess for tea, assisted by Mrs. James Barrett and Mrs. Robert Marlin.

TODAY is pay day for all who have classified ads.

PTA Council Enjoys Scout Refreshments

At the March meeting of Warren Community PTA Council, held in Jefferson School auditorium, refreshments were served at 7:15 by Girl Scout Troop 4.

Mrs. Rulander, president, called the meeting to order at 8:00 p. m. Minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved; the treasurer's report showed a balance of $159.

Communications were read from Margaret Bailey, one of the recipients of the 1957 PTA Scholarship; Warren General Hospital, Warren Library Association, and Beaty Junior High School, thanking Council for presenting them with a subscription to the National Parent-Teacher Magazine.

Mrs. Knowlton reported on the play "Robin Hood's Treasure". Mr. Olson gave an extensive report for the Scholarship Committee, stating there is a balance of $1,080.63, several applications have been received and are now in the hands of the qualifications committee.

Mrs. Rulander announced the spring conference of the District will be in Franklin May 3 and urged that all units send delegates, especially new officers.

Some discussion was held about the Green River Ordinance of the borough and motion was passed that Council send in a formal protest to this ordinance. Another motion was passed that Council write to congressmen of the federal government recommending that the Teachers' Salary and School Construction bills be passed.

The next session will be held at the Penn-Laurel Motel May 15, a dinner-meeting, with wives and husbands of Council members invited.

A nominating committee was appointed: Mrs. William Welch of McClintock, chairman; Mrs. Warren Rohlin, Jefferson; Mrs. Joseph Bunk, Lacy; Mrs. Ira Brown, East; Mrs. David Demel, South.

Dr. Whipple reported on progress of plans for the new high school.

RESUME OF NORTH WARREN SCOUT EVENTS

The program for Girl Scout Troop 35 of North Warren in the past several weeks has included interesting sessions at which were heard two excellent speakers.

Loyal Briggs, teacher at Beaty Junior High School, met with the group for instruction and discussion of requirements for the Personal Health badge. Troop 19, also of North Warren, had a meeting with girls of Troop 35 to see two fascinating reels of nature films taken by Dr. W. W. Hughes, member of Warren State Hospital staff.

Future plans for the group include an early spring overnight camping trip, troop camping at Birdsall Edey, and a rummage sale.

Dr. J. T. Valone will not be in his office the remainder of this week, but the office will be open.

Imaginative Theme for Beaty Show Features 'Three Wishes of Wendy'

The Spring Show at Beaty Junior High School this year is featuring the story "Three Wishes of Wendy", an account of a young girl left out of other children's games and fun and what happens to her when she finds an odd-looking bottle from which a genie appears to give her three wishes and bring her happiness.

Wendy will be played by Jill Shackett tonight, by Peggy Holt on Friday evening; the genie will be portrayed by Fred Haer and the fairy princesses will be Nancy Coyle and Diane Daugherty.

First scene in the show features the Seventh Grade Chorus, singing "Thumbelina" and "Boats of Mine". Accompanying the singers at the piano will be Murray Foreman.

Scene Two features a Candy-land theme, where Ginny Cunningham as Sugar and Bill Eldridge, in the role of Spice, conduct a tour to the tune of "The Good Ship Lollipop", while Anne Lewis and Diane Anderson, dressed like lollipops, interpret the theme in a dance.

This will be followed by "two pieces of hard rock candy", played by Rodney Betts and Cecelia Smith, in "The Big Rock Candy Mountain". To conclude Wendy's trip to Candy-land, six Sugar Plum Fairies, Lee Ritchie, Mary Fago, Judy Schager, Connie Mealy, Pat Lowe and Barbara Olskey, will do a ballet, "Dance of the Sugar Plum Fairies".

Scene Three will present the Eighth Grade Chorus, singing "Annie Laurie Chapinacus" and a Czechoslovakian folk dance. Curtain Two will feature a folk dance with accordion accompaniment by Guy Smith, with Eva Marie VonChamner and Mike Rice as the dancers.

As the magic carpet carries them on to Curtain Three, Scene Two, Helene McClure, dressed as a snake, will slither out of a basket to present a snake dance. The snake charmer will be Linda Ahlgren, with her oboe, alternating evenings with Mary Ann Reynolds.

Rock-n-Roll will open Curtain Four, with Barb Zaffino and Jim Siliano displaying their hop talents, while David Kiffer plays their piano accompaniment.

Scene Four will be Toyland, with the Ninth Grade Chorus singing "Toyland", "March of the Toy Soldiers" and "Wedding of the Painted Doll". Dancing Teddy Bears, Diane Anderson and Ann Lewis, will be seen in a delightful performance; Wooden Soldiers will parade to a Schumann March; George Mattison, Dick Hines and Joel Wilson will show their acrobatic abilities as clowns. Last in the act will be the Dancing Dolls, Cecelia Smith, Karen Johnson, Karen Smith, Susan Walls and Karlene Curtis.

Curtain time for this all-Beaty Variety Show will be 7:30 each evening and tickets may be had at the door.

WOMAN'S CLUB DANCE

Members of the Woman's Club and their guests will enjoy a post-Easter dance in the club auditorium on Saturday, April 12. Mrs. Neil Donovan, ticket chairman for the Entertainment Committee, announces tickets are available from club members. Formal dress is optional for this Invitation Dance, with music starting at 9:00 p. m.

PLEASANT SCOUT UNITS ENJOY TOURS

The Teen Patrol of Pleasant Girl Scout Troop 51 completed requirements for the Photography badge this week, when members visited the McIntosh Studio. Owner Virg Zetterlind gave the girls an informative talk on cameras, explaining timing, exposure, and answering all questions.

Following this session he conducted the girls on a tour of the work rooms of the Studio. Furnishing transportation and supervision for the trip were Mrs. Clarence Hendrickson, Mrs. Lee Hannold, Mrs. Ross Wood and Mrs. Rex Confer.

Brownies of Pleasant Troop 78 also enjoyed an interesting and informative tour of the Anderson Baking Company plant in Fourth avenue this week. After the tour, the girls were treated to cookies and were presented a pencil as a memento. In the group were 25 Brownies, with their leaders, Mrs. Florence Pring and Mrs. Myrtle Confer, and three mothers who provided transportation, Mrs.

Burleigh, Mrs. Farrell and Mrs. Haight

Next week's regular Wednesday afternoon meeting will be in the form of an Easter party, to which mothers of Brownies are invited.

MISSIONARIES ARE NAZARENE GUESTS

Mrs. Willis Anderson, returned missionary from India, will be speaking at the Sunday evening service in First Church of the Nazarene.

The Andersons have been missionaries to India for the past 22 years, still retaining their membership in the local church, Mr. Anderson having spent his earlier years in Warren. They arrived in the United States about a week ago, after an extensive tour from their missionary field.

Both were welcomed home last evening at the midweek service of the local church, speaking briefly. In addition, Mr. Anderson played special selections and sang in an Indian language.

ALL URGED TO SEE FILM—Warren County Youth for Christ extends a cordial invitation to all its friends to see "Centerville Awakening", a feature sound-motion picture film, at Bethel EUB church Saturday evening. The picture portrays dramatically what can happen to a church, its people, and pastor and they yield their lives to God. It was produced in close collaboration with ministers of many denominations who share the conviction that, given a chance, the Holy Spirit can work mightily in hearts and lives today.

"GLORIA SWANSON'S FASHION OF THE MONTH"

Gloria Swanson brings March in like a lamb with a printed nysilla floral crepe. Sparked with a touch of glitter and velvet bows you couldn't hope for a more lovely look. Flattering scooped neck with dressmaker touches of unpressed pleats at bodice. Soft shouldered, cuffed short sleeve give added elegance at first glance. The attractive gored skirt is in the American tradition of fine dressmaking by Forever Young. Aqua, Blue, and Grey.

Mozart Visitors Give Program at Philomel

Philomel Club members were delighted with an outstanding program presented by Mozart Club members of Jamestown Wednesday afternoon at the Woman's Club. This event is always eagerly anticipated from year to year and the 1958 visit and program exceeded all expectations.

Mrs. Nell Paterson, Philomel president, welcomed the guests and introduced Mrs. Arnold Sundell, who presented the following members of her club for the program:

Mrs. Russell H. Schulte, Mrs. George H. Tolley, Mrs. Clifford Larson, Miss Florence Sandberg, Mrs. Robert Wettingfield, Mrs. Willard Perlee and Mrs. William P. Osmar.

Tea was served by Mrs. Norman Gross and her committee from a table beautifully decorated with silver candelabra and lovely spring flowers. Mrs. Bernard Gofberg and Mrs. W. S. Loding presided.

STENOGRAPHERS' CLUB PLANS ANNUAL SHOW

Warren High School Stenographers' Club has planned its annual Style Show for 8:00 p. m. April 10 in the school auditorium, with tickets available from any member; from the advisor, Mrs. McClure; or at the door the night of the affair.

Using a "College Weekend" theme, club members will model dresses, casuals, sportswear and accessories from Jean Carol's. Selections are planned to appeal to both Senior and Junior High School girls. There will be planned entertainment between scenes and a special award for some lucky attendant.

BRIDE-ELECT IS GUEST FOR SHOWER

SUGAR GROVE—Janet Jordan of Lottsville, whose marriage to Jerry Frank will take place April 5, was honored at a bridal shower Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Leonard Briggs, with Mrs. Lowell White the assisting hostess.

Prize in the evening's entertainment went to Mrs. Harland Brown, Mrs. Marvin Thorpe and Mrs. Stanley Meelen. Miss Jordan received a variety of gifts from the 13 guests. Present from out of town were Mrs. Clarence White, Ashville; Mrs. Gail Frank, Lakewood.

CLARENDON PTA

Mrs. Kenneth Knight, president, conducted the March session of Clarendon Borough PTA, when William Rhoades led devotions followed by Pledge of Allegiance. Routine reports were given and communications read by Mrs. Paul Lobdell. It was decided the unit will furnish a treat for members of the School Safety Patrol. Mrs. John Sleeman named chairman of the event.

Bruce Harding, of Warren General Hospital, spoke on "History of X-Rays," stressing the fact that x-rays are not harmful to persons but very helpful in detecting diseases of the body. In conclusion, refreshments were served by Mrs. Robert Nerthling and Mrs. William Hollister.

EAST STREET UNIT

Mrs. Clifford Knowlton, president, conducted the business session of the March meeting of East Street PTA, followed by a panel discussion with LeRoy Schneck as moderator, the panel consisting of Dr. Krespan, Mrs. Newman and Dan Troxell on the topic "Sense and Nonsense of Fluoridation". In conclusion, refreshments were served by first grade mothers with Mrs. Richard Tranter, Mrs. Julius Fino and Mrs. Harry Grimes as hostesses.

YOUNG LADIES AID

Tiona Ladies Aid members are meeting in the church dining room this afternoon following a one o'clock dessert luncheon. Miss Cora Templeton and Mrs. Howard Watson are co-hostesses, and a business session will follow.

YOUNG LADIES AID

YOUNG LADIES AID—Mrs. Richard Giegerich, president, conducted the Monday evening meeting of Youngsville PTA, opening with the Lord's Prayer and Pledge of Allegiance. It was announced the card party "snowed under" in February has been rescheduled for April 14, with Mrs. Charlotte Dalrymple as general chairman.

It was voted to send incoming new officers to the Northwest District convention at Franklin May 3; named as a nominating committee to report at the next meeting were Mrs. Orrie Maasz, Mrs. John Wheeler and Mrs. Dora Hajnik. Mrs. Giegerich, PTA representative on the Community Development Committee, reported on its meeting; Mrs. Marge Finlan's sixth grade won the attendance award.

The program chairman, Mrs. Gordon Kay, introduced the guest speaker, Dr. Alfred Vogt, of Warren State Hospital staff, who talked interestingly on "Discipline, Mental Health and Your School". A lively question and answer period followed, after which refreshments were served in the cafeteria by sixth grade mothers.

IRVINGDALE PTA

The March meeting of Irvingdale PTA was held in the form of a family tureen dinner with about 300 attending. Devotions were led by Mrs. Archie Brown. Dawn Taft, Jaycee Youth Ambassador to Switzerland, gave a talk and showed slides, followed by a White Elephant sale. Refreshment committee was composed of Mr. and Mrs. Guilford Branch, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Maronek, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Johnson.

THURSDAY CIRCLE

Members of the Russell Methodist Circle will meet at the home of Mrs. Emil Olson, with Mrs. Larry Warner as co-hostess. All members are urged to be present for the eight o'clock meeting.

ERROR IN NAME

Incorrectly given in the Wednesday issue was the name of Miss Felicia Passaro, elected secretary of Delta Kappa Gamma sorority chapter for the coming year.

CLASS MEETING

GR Class members of Epworth Methodist church will hold their regular meeting at the church at eight o'clock this evening.

WILL SHOW FILM

A film, "Centerville Awakening", will be shown at the Stinson Hill Community church at 8:00 p. m. Friday and the public is welcome.

Gathered From The Party Line

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Mead, 18 Orchard street, have arrived home after spending the past month in West Palm Beach and Riviera Beach, Fla., where the former enjoyed some good deep sea fishing.

George Osaba, called home from Boca Raton, Fla., by the death of his sister, Mrs. Jennie Seymour, is visiting at the home of his daughter, Mrs. R. E. Clark, Park avenue, before returning to his home Sunday evening.

PARTY LINE

State Senator L. E. Chapman, who is seeking the Republican nomination for another term, was one of the speakers at a party rally held at Oil City last evening, with most of the candidates for state and national offices in attendance.

THE MARKETS

NEW YORK (AP) — Some airline shares advanced as the stock market was mixed with a slightly higher tendency in quiet early trading today.

Changes of fractions to around a point were the rule for most key stocks. The opening was fairly active and irregular.

Award by the Civil Aeronautics Board of four trunkline air routes between Great Lakes Cities and St. Louis into Florida helped some of the lines.

Some leading steels and a few selected issues showed a firmer tone. Most important market groups showed a little change. Chemicals produced some scattered losers. Motors were barely changed although Ford dropped a fraction.

American Stock Exchange prices and corporate bonds were mixed.

LUCKY BOY—Mark Lee McIntyre, a St. Patrick's Day baby is alive and doing fine today thanks to some prompt cooperation between Warren General Hospital medical staff, Red Cross Blood Bank and State Troopers. Because of an RH factor conflict in his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. McIntyre, 910 Stone Avenue, the little fellow needed an "exchange transfusion" of all his blood. Also needed was a blood additive which was not available locally. However, a fast call to Buffalo Red Cross headquarters elicited the information that two vials were available at Corry. State Troopers there brought the additive halfway, and Warren Troopers completed the job. Mrs. McIntyre, shown above with her child, are now at home.

Marlow Looks At TODAY'S NEWS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Space scientists ought to have the best chance — of any group in this country — to get the money they need out of Congress.

There are numerous reasons but none more compelling than these:

1. Fear that the Soviets will get ahead of us.

2. Congress, being made up of laymen, is in a poor position to judge the price tag on work and equipment needed to explore outer space.

Last night President Eisenhower released a 4,000-word study on space science prepared by his Science Advisory Committee. Dr. James Killian is chairman.

Killian and 17 other scientists signed this study explaining the importance of space exploration, with satellites and men, for scientific and military reasons.

Their price tag for getting a man to the moon and back again — a couple of billion dollars over a number of years.

But before man went on such a mission there would be many other preliminary investigations of space and the planets.

It's easy — for anyone remembering the national shock here when the Soviet Union sent up its two Sputniks — to foresee Congress opening the purse strings.

Even so the scientists put their price tag far down in the body of their study as if to make the costs look minor when compared with the need and the benefits from the exploration of outer space.

It was, apparently, a coincidence that on the day Eisenhower released the study this country sent up its third satellite. Yet none of the three American satellites is in the same league — in size — with the Soviet Sputniks.

So this country still has a long way to go to catch up with the Soviets.

Even as the third satellite went aloft there was concern here that the Soviets — pretty silent since their Sputniks went up last fall — are readying an even greater sensation and achievement.

If that happens there will be even greater clamor in Congress for pushing space development, not only with missiles but for scientific reasons.

Killian and his group played down the military value of investigations into space. They didn't try to discuss the field of intercontinental missiles.

They dwell on the military value of satellites for reconnaissance and the radio relay of information picked up by them.

But they belittled the idea of space as a future theater of war for mastery of the world — meaning such things as satellite bombers or military bases on the moon.

"Clumsy and ineffective ways of doing a job," they said of such things.

Ironically, as they pointed out, it has been the "military quest for ultra long-range rockets that has provided man with new machinery so powerful that it can readily put satellites in orbit and before long, send instruments out to explore the moon and nearby planets."

Soil Conservation Workers Attend College Workshop

U. S. Soil Conservation Service workers and County Agents of the Agricultural Extension Service in Pennsylvania attended a two-day joint conservation workshop at State College, March 18 and 19. The conference, Ivan McKeever, State Conservationist, Soil Conservation Service, explained dealt with the conservation of Pennsylvania's soil, water, forest and wildlife resources. Ralph G. Eckert, Soil Conservation Service technician in Warren County attended the workshop. Training meetings for the Soil Conservation Service's work unit conservationists started March 17. These technicians are helping the State's 48 soil conservation districts with their conservation work. "Their job," McKeever explained, "is to help farmers develop and carry out conservation programs for protecting and improving this farmland".

Representatives of the Pennsylvania State University and members of the Soil Conservation Service of Harrisburg and Washington, D. C., addressed the sessions. Also participating in the two-day meetings were members of other federal and state agencies interested in conservation.

These annual training sessions are held in cooperation with the College of Agriculture. The Soil Conservation Service and the Agricultural Extension Service specialists bring to the meetings the modern trends in

RADIO and TV

By CHARLES MERCER
New York (AP)—Make Me Laugh, ABC-TV, Thursdays has not made me laugh yet, but I suppose it could if it would throw in one contestant as stony-faced about it as I was during its debut last week.

The gambit in this one is to confront a studio contestant with three so-called comedians, each of whom has 60 seconds in which to make the victim laugh. For every second he doesn't laugh he gets a buck.

On last week's program, with Robert Q. Lewis as master of ceremonies and comedians Sid Gould, Buddy Lester and Henry Youngman in the pitcher's box, it appeared to be the easiest way to earn $180 yet conceived by television.

But everybody laughed—everybody except maybe a few thousand sour-pusses like me.

Perhaps it would have been easier to make me laugh if I hadn't felt it necessary to interrupt watching a beguiling Playhouse 90 CBS-TV program in its middle half-hour portion.

Although I missed its second act, "The Right Hand Man" impressed me as an altogether absorbing and realistic drama

Agriculture and recent developments in soil and water conservation. Dr. Lyman Jackson and Russell Dickerson of the Pennsylvania State University were the guest speakers at the Conservation Banquet, at the Nittany Lion Inn. Representatives of federal and state conservation agencies and local groups interested in conservation highlighted the program.

of the agency business—East Coast branch, at any rate, even though the drama's focus was on the West Coast home office of which I personally know nothing.

It was, I believe, Anne Baxter's dramatic debut on television. She's very good. So were Dana Andrews and Leslie Nielsen in this play written by Carson Kanin. It made one fellow want to modify written by Carson Kanin. It made one fellow want to some of the things he'd said about Playhouse 90 this season.

No Playhouse 90 tonight. Instead Show of the Month presents "A Tale of Two Cities" CBS-TV.

In order to talk with its 45,000 alumni around the world, Harvard University will present a radio program with a potential audience of 450 million on Friday evening.

"The Case for the College," a program involving Harvard alumni, undergraduates, faculty and administrators, will be heard on more than 150 stations of the CBS radio network. It is the first time an American university has bought an hour of radio network time in order to describe its functions.

Extension Group In Forest County Has Tureen Dinner

The executive committee of the Forest County Agricultural Extension Association held a tureen dinner meeting in the home of J. R. Allio, Newmansville, with President J. G. Jamieson in charge.

Committee member Mrs. John Motzer told about the trip to her home community in Germany last fall.

Timely facts about extension work were discussed by H. K. Anders, assistant director of Agricultural and Home Economics Extension for Pennsylvania.

During the business session, reports were given by the secretary, Mrs. John Handy; the treasurer, John King; the extension home economist, Mrs. Kathleen Zumbro; the county agent, Russell M. Smith; and public affairs program committeeman, Frank L. Watson. During his talk, County Agent Smith presented Miss Betty Allio, 4-H Queen of Forest County.

Other committee members present were Mrs. John King, Mrs. Ira Shoup, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Allio, and Mrs. H. C. Siegworth.

Guests present were Mrs. Grace Smith, Mrs. Wilda Watson, John Handy, H. C. Siegworth, and the J. R. Allio family.

Mrs. Ira Shoup and J. R. Allio were selected to attend the administrative conference at Oil City on April 8.

The auto tour committee named by President Jamieson consists of Mrs. Mary Mong, chairman; Mrs. Adelaide Siegworth, William Motzer, Marvin Yeancy and Chester Zundel.

Charlie Anaitok, an Eskimo who lives on Hudson Bay, recently visited Montreal, his first sight of a major city. What shocked him most was seeing city people eating fried chicken without knife and fork. "I thought only Eskimos ate with their bare hands," he said.

More than 70 top stars participated in the NBC telecast of the awards.

The stars convened on the Beverly Hilton Hotel after the awards for a dinner dance.

Among the formal-clad guests appeared a man wearing sport coat and open-collar sport shirt. He was Dick Hanley, executive secretary for the late producer Mike Todd. He carried a bouquet of white orchids and delivered them to Miss Woodward.

Hanley said they were sent by Elizabeth Taylor, herself a contender for best actress honors.

Hanley said Elizabeth viewed the beginning of the Oscar TV show but was too exhausted to watch the conclusion. Hanley notified her that Miss Woodward had "on and she asked him to deliver orchids.

Kentucky Moonshiners Are Invited to Church

MANCHESTER, Ky. (AP) — One smashed boiler, twisted pipes, strong smelling mash and an invitation to church.

That's all that remains of the operations of some Clay County moonshiners who cleared out before officers smashed their 150-gallon still.

"We were sorry we did not arrest anyone but we left a friendly note inviting the moonshiners to join us at church Sunday morning," reported Sheriff T. C. Sizemore.

Valuable Ring Found Stashed in Church

VALUABLE—18
SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A $4,000 diamond and sapphire ring has been found wedged between the cushion and a wall in the priest's section of a confessional in old St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church.

The section found the ring and gave it to Father John Overend, who had it appraised, then delivered it to police.

Inspector Eugene Osuno suggested it was left by "either a repentant sinner or a fearful thief."

The volcanic soil is rich and the crops are good on the slopes of Mount Etna, Sicily, Italy.

Mahany Says He Will Not Be On Vaughan's Slate

REVERSE AMBASSADOR—Robert Huffman, national director of Community Youth Ambassador projects, was in Warren this week discussing a "reverse ambassador" set-up by which this community could host more foreign ambassadors. Huffman had several praiseworthy comments to make about Warren and discussed the possibility of having it put on the itinerary of roving youth envoys from other lands. He met with the local committee headed by David Swanson.

HARRISBURG (AP)—State Sen. Rowland B. Mahany of Titusville, a candidate for the Republican nomination for lieutenant governor, says he will reject a proposal that he form a two-man slate with Aliquippa Contractor Harold J. Vaughan, who is seeking the GOP gubernatorial nomination.

Neither Mahany or Vaughan have the support of the state Republican organization. Vaughan said yesterday he plans to confer with Mahany on the possibility of forming a two-man slate. But Mahany said in Harrisburg: "I have not been consulted relative to such a two-man ticket. When I am consulted I will have to say, 'no.' I have supporters who are backing other candidates for governor than Mr. Vaughan. It would not be fair to them for me to tie up with any candidate." Vaughan said he plans to open a statewide campaign this week by appearing in Lawrence, Mercer, Crawford and Erie counties. "Mahany said he will campaign as much as he can while still carrying on with his duties as Republican leader in the Senate."

Bundestag to Permit Nuclear Weapons Arms

Bonn, Germany (AP)—After a violent four-day debate, the West German Bundestag voted last night to let West Germany's troops arm with nuclear weapons as part of Western Europe's defense. The government's majority in the lower house had made passage a certainty despite bitter opposition. The motion sponsored by Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's Christian Democrats went through without a roll call. Earlier the Bundestag rejected 269-194 a motion espoused by the Free Democrats and Socialists to bar atomic weapons and Nato missile bases from West Germany. Socialist Leader Erich Ollenhauer declared the opposition was not through fighting.

Johnson, Jerry McDannel, Michael Volan; wolf badge and gold arrows—Clayton Stoldt and Darby Switzer; silver arrow for Wolf badge—Michael Cruickshank; Bear badge—Richard Lynds. After a brief talk by Cubmaster George Mattison on diving Pack 13, the following skits were presented: Den One, St. Patrick driving the snakes and frogs out of Ireland; Den Two, Alaskan statehood; Den Three, informative and statistical skit on Alaska.

Extension of Jobless Pay Urged by P. F. L.

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Pennsylvania Federation of Labor has urged that the Congress vote a flat increase in the number of weeks for which jobless workers may receive unemployment compensation. In a telegram to the state's congressional delegation yesterday, PFL President Joseph A. McDonough supported the flat increase in preference to suggested federal legislation that would establish a uniform 39 compensable weeks in all states. Pennsylvania now pays a maximum of 35 a week for 30 weeks compared to the average for states of comparable size of 26 weeks at a $30 maximum.

High School Notes

The Y-Teens will have a hayride on Saturday, April 12th. The tickets are $1.00 a couple and can be bought from Ginny Gnagay, Vernie Bruto, Ann Garrison, or Carol Papaha. There will be only 24 tickets, sold, so hurry.

The tickets for the gym show are officially on sale today and may be purchased from anyone in the show, Mr. Miller, Miss Putnam, or in the office. There is a limited number of tickets and if you are planning to go, get your ticket early. The price is only 25c.

GUESS BUNNY'S WEIGHT

Much favorable comment has been caused concerning the large rabbit displayed in the window of the Reynolds Candy Shop, and first prize for anyone guessing the correct weight of the bunny will be a two pound egg with choice of name written on it; second prize will be a one pound egg. The realistic looking bunny has a white chocolate coating. Mr. Reynolds urges everyone to come in and guess the correct weight of the rabbit, and says he will appreciate placing of orders for Easter goodies before Wednesday.

Bar Association Making Plans for "Law Day U.S.A."

HARRISBURG —The Pennsylvania Bar Association called upon local Bar Associations throughout the state to join in the forthcoming celebration of Law Day U. S. A. "on a scale befitting Pennsylvania's heritage as the birthplace of the American form of government."

Law Day U. S. A. will be celebrated throughout the United States on Thursday, May 1 by Presidential proclamation, its two-fold purpose being to strengthen the nation's dedication to the rule of law as the foundation of our free society and to freshen the American citizen's awareness of the rights and privileges he enjoys by reason of our system of laws and courts.

J. Villard Frampton, Oil City, Pennsylvania Bar Association president, has sent messages to the Association's eleven Regional Directors asking them to give all possible encouragement and assistance to County Bar officials in arranging appropriate public programs in the various communities throughout their respective zones.

He suggested that lawyers seek the cooperation of educational, veterans', patriotic, religious, civic and professional groups in planning local observances, and urged that wherever possible the observance include programs in schools.

"We in Pennsylvania," President Frampton asserted, "must enter into this initial celebration of Law Day U. S. A. with an enthusiasm and on a scale befitting Pennsylvania's heritage as the birthplace of the American form of government."

"Let our goal be some significant and worthwhile reminder of the meaning of Law Day U. S. A. in every community in Pennsylvania."

The Regional Directors upon whom Frampton has called to take the lead in the coordination and promotion of Law Day U. S. A. planning are:

Roy W. Johns, Philadelphia; Fred J. West, Jr., Pottsville; Robert H. Griffith, York; Robert F. Cox, Wellsboro; Judge Thomas L. Hoban, Scranton; H. Gilmore Schmidt, Washington; George J. Balco, Meadville;

Candidates Meet Republican Officials

TEACHER LAUDS PUPIL—Former Kane High School Principal Emma E. Christian yesterday turned out to meet her one-time pupil Althurs McGongle, gubernatorial candidate who stopped in Warren on a campaign visit. Emma, now retired and living at 1211 Pennsylvania Avenue East, said she remembered McGongle in her English class as "an honest, straight forward and very nice fellow" and would vote for him for those reasons.

Ere Her sister, Mrs. Edna Rosansky of Erie, spent several days here with her.

Mr. and Mrs. Jason Cripe, Sheiman, N. Y., spent the weekend with their daughter, Mrs. Ivan Johnson, and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lee and children, Kennedy, N. Y., were Sunday visitors of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Durlin, and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Witcox and children, Kennedy, N. Y., were Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Seamans.

LUDLOW

Mrs. Emil Nelson entertained Study Group at her home, with all members present and Mrs. Melvin McCleary conducting a short business session. Mrs. Enoch Nelson prepared and read a paper, "Memorable Places", which linked history, travel and beauty spots as inspiration. Mrs. George Anderson reviewed "The Sixteen Revolutions" recently printed in a prominent magazine.

Refreshments were served in late evening and members discussed plans for Guest Night in May. Next regular meeting will be held at the home of Ethelyn Connolly, with Mrs. George Anderson presenting the program.

QUESTIONS and ANSWERS

Q—My GI term insurance policy has been lapsed about six months. Will I have to pay all back premiums in order to reinstate it?

A—No. You must pay two premiums: one covering the month your policy lapsed and one for the present month. Since your policy was lapsed more than three months, you will need a physical examination to reinstate it.

Q—If a school expels a veteran for misconduct, does he still have the right to use his change-of-course privilege under the Korean GI Bill and enroll for another course in another school?

A—No. If Korean GI training is interrupted or discontinued for misconduct, and the school refuses to readmit the veteran, the law denies him all further GI training.

Q—I am a World War II veteran and I own a house purchased with a GI loan. If by some chance I have to sell it for a compelling reason after July 25, 1958, the deadline for applying for World War II GI loans may I still get my entitlement reinstated?

A—Yes. Once VA reinstates your entitlement you would have until January 31, 1965, to obtain another GI loan—even though the World War II GI loan deadline will have passed.

Q—I am over 18 and I plan to go to school under the War Orphans Education program. Would I be eligible to receive both my educational allowances and death compensation payments at the same time?

A—No. Since you are over 18, the law prohibits both payments simultaneously. If you receive War Orphans payments your death compensation payments will have to stop.

Fire Destroys Swede Hill Barn

A 40-by-50 foot barn on the David T. Johnson farm, Swede Hill Road, a mile out of Russell, burned to the ground late yesterday afternoon.

Prompt work by Russell Volunteer firemen and the owner's son, David, aged 11, was credited with saving 27 head of cattle, with the nearby home and milk house containing a new bulk tank.

David was in the barn feeding ensilage when he saw sparks. Running upstairs he found the building filled with smoke. His mother called firemen while the boy ran back to start leading out the cows.

Charles S. Janson on the Lander Road and neighbor Keith Lundmark are now quartering the animals.

The loss is partially covered by insurance. Also burned were about 250 bales of hay, 200 straw.

FBLA at Youngsville

When Youngsville Chapter, FBLA, hosts the Region I convention today in its high school, Rose Hill, president, will serve as general chairman and welcome visitors following registration; Waide Ingols, chapter and region sponsor, will serve as advisor. (Youngsville Courier Photo).

Concluding a year of thorough study of various fields in the business world, Future Business Leaders of America in District I are gathering in Youngsville High School from 8:30 to 10:00 p. m. today for their regional convention.

Five contestants from Warren High's Chapter 520, who will be in competition in several contests, left this afternoon for convention headquarters, along with two voting delegates and numerous other delegates. Bonnie Tremblay is chapter president from Warren.

Schools comprising District I are Warren, Youngsville, Lawrence Park, Edinboro, Waterford, Albion and Girard.

In competition this evening from Warren will be May Ann Musante, typing, shorthand and spelling; Joanne Smith, typing; Patty Delp, shorthand; Nancy Reynolds and Patty Armstrong, spelling. Joyce Knapp and Sue Shows were elected voting delegates at a special meeting held at the local school Monday afternoon.

Youngsville contestants will be as follows: Spelling, Joanne Gourley and Jean May; Miss FBLA, Rose Mary Hill; typing, Nola Deshner and Judy Spencer; shorthand, Nola Deshner and Joanne Gourley; public speaking, Ardelle Fox.

Contests, in order of their appearance on the agenda are: Spelling, Miss FBLA; typing, shorthand, Mr. FBLA; public speaking; selection of best chapter in the district; and announcement of winners and business meeting at 9:30 p. m.

Juveniles no Different Than in Grandpa's Day

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Police Chief William H. Parker and Dist. Atty. William B. McKesson disagree about juvenile criminals.

Parker told a meeting of juvenile officers that society is "producing a pattern of misbehavior at a faster rate than it can cope with."

McKesson told the same group today's juveniles are no different from their parents and grandparents.

"We're arresting kids today for things they would not have been arrested for a generation ago," he said. "The situation is not nearly as bad as it looks."

Cancer --- Most Feared Disease

Written by Mary Harland and printed as a public service for the Warren County Cancer Society

"No disease is more feared than cancer. Yet the thing most to fear when cancer strikes is fear itself, for it can lead to procrastination, which in turn can lead to death."

This statement was made by Dr. William Walters, medical advisor of the American Cancer Society in Warren County, who today exploded a number of dangerous myths about cancer and urged annual checkups as the remedy for fear.

"There is every reason to have a healthy respect for a disease that killed 250,000 Americans last year," declared Dr. Walters. "But, we don't want people to become cancerphobes. We want to explode superstitions about cancer, the unreasonable fears and fatalism that make people shy away from their doctors, because one of the greatest hazards of cancer is belated diagnosis."

"Of those who had cancer last year about 75,000 died unnecessarily . . . because the disease wasn't discovered and treated early enough. But twice that number won the fight against cancer . . . because they weren't afraid to give the doctor a chance."

"The most dangerous cancer myth is the acceptance of doom. It is astonishing how many people still believe that if you get cancer, 'there is nothing you can do about it.' That's why we are trying to hammer home the fact that one of every two cancer cases can be cured. Only a few years ago one in every four cancer patients was cured," Dr. Walters went on to explode other cancer myths.

1. Cancer is not an inherited sickness. The disease does eventually strike in two out of every three homes. But this does not mean that "cancer is in the family." There is no evidence that cancer is hereditary in human beings.

2. Cancer is not contagious. Eighty years of research have not produced a germ for this disease. Viruses may play an indirect part in inciting cancer. But there isn't a single case on record which proves that the disease is "catching."

3. Cancer is not something to be ashamed of, to be kept dark because nice people don't get cancer. The notion that cancer is a shocking penalty for the wages of sin is a shocking survival of ignorance in an age of enlightenment. Cancer can strike anyone.

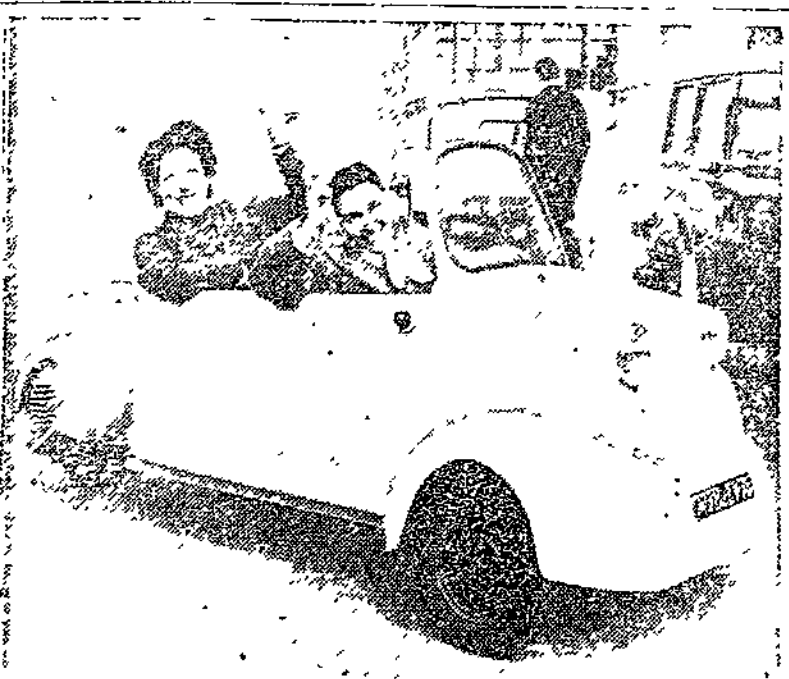

4. Cancer is not a disease that only strikes older people. While the disease occurs more frequently between the ages of 45 and 70, it can strike at any age. About 20,000 of last year's 250,000 deaths occurred in the age group of 15 to 44. And more school children died of cancer than from any other disease.

"In addition to these major misconceptions about cancer, there are a number of myths we can sum up briefly," Dr. Walters said. "Cancer isn't caused by aluminum cooking utensils or fluoridation of water. The normal use of alcohol drinks does not increase the possibility of cancer striking. And, in a general way, you can forget what the food faddists try to tell you about cancer: canned goods and refined flour cannot cause cancer, any more than blackstrap molasses can ward it off or grapes cure it!"

"The last fantastic notion, by the way, is one of the cures of cancer quackery. The charlatan thrives on the superstitions and fears that surround the subject of cancer. People who live in dread of seeing the doctor because 'he might discover a cancer' often go to quacks . . . at the cost of much more than money! If cancer should be present, every day wasted with false cures reduces the odds and recovery!"

Dr. Walters, medical advisor for the Warren County Unit of the American Cancer Society urges everyone to forget about these dangerous myths about cancer, and have an annual checkup as the remedy for fear.

"Fight cancer with a checkup and a check!" is the slogan of the Cancer Society's educational and fund-raising Crusade which begins on Tuesday, April 1.

Leg of Lamb, Chuck Roasts And Frying Chickens Hold Food Spotlight This Week

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Leg of lamb, frying chickens and chuck roast will be offered by many of the nation's supermarkets and neighborhood groceries this weekend at prices designed to attract shoppers weary of battling the high cost of living. Not all are cheaper than they were a week ago. But at least, in most cases, they're no more expensive. These days that fact counts for something.

Lamb prices generally are unchanged from last week, meat men say. Fryers are off a bit in scattered localities, with prices as low as 37 cents a pound at one chain's stores in the New York metropolitan area. As for chuck roast, sirloin steak is anywhere from 2 to 10 cents a pound more expensive this week and rib roasts are up around 4 cents a pound in some sections. That should explain why chuck is popular. The steak and rib roast prices reflect recent advances in wholesale markets, which livestock men say, should put beef at about its peak. They predict a gradual decline and that can't come too soon or too fast for harried housewives. Shoppers have found some relief from high fruit and vegetable prices by turning to the canned food shelves. There they've found bargains aplenty in such items as peas, corn, pears and fruit cocktail.

Fresh vegetable bargains once again are hard to find, although carrots and potatoes are good buys. Potatoes are a bit low this week.

In the fairly good category are beets, mushrooms, cabbage, onions, sweet potatoes and asparagus. Cabbage is a little higher, since the new crop is still lagging and last fall's storage heads are getting scarce.

Asparagus should get cheaper in the next few weeks, too, as shipments increase. Fresh mushrooms are plentiful, market men say, because of labor difficulties affecting packers.

Spinach and celery are a little higher and squash a little lower, but they're no better than moderate in price. Lettuce, broccoli, cauliflower and beans are in the same class. Beans are making a comeback with fast harvesting of post-freeze plantings.

Apples again are about the best bet in fresh fruit. As might be expected, however, the cheapest apples are the ripest. More desirable fruit from "controlled atmosphere" storage is more expensive. Lemons are a good buy, but other, more popular types of citrus fruit are in light supply and higher priced. Imported melons and a scattering of grapes and strawberries are somewhat above what most people would consider bargain levels.

An increase in banana imports of 5 to 10 per cent makes the yellow fruit less expensive. Ten cents a pound is the price in some areas compared with 15 cents last fall.

The U. S. Army Transportation Corps operates a trackless freight train high above the Arctic Circle. It has a 29.5 ton "locomotive" equipped with tires ten feet high and four feet wide.

Local Photographer Author Of Interesting Story in the Nat'l Geographic Magazine

In the April 1958 issue of National Geographic Magazine, Treat Davidson of 410 Fifth avenue, describes in an illustrated article how he became interested in the rare field of catching trout with a camera rather than a hook.

The author-photographer tells of how his project was born one day along Hemlock bordered Tionesta Creek when a rainbow trout "erupting from the water... in an explosion of droplets, caught a dragonfly well above the surface, and plunged victoriously back." At that instant a new project was born: I would somehow photograph this leap of a feeding trout.

First problem was proper equipment. The trout, cousin of cold water salmon, is remarkably strong and restless, very agile. Only the young are easily photographed as they appear all eyes in tiny sacs which provide food when first hatched. Able to move 20 feet per second, Davidson decided, "The trout would have to take his own picture. We'll use a photoelectric cell. His leap will break the light beam and trip the shutter."

Needing help, Davidson consulted Dr. Harold E. Edgerton, Professor of Electrical Measurements at MIT. He had seen in NGM his pioneering efforts with speedlights which could flash as fast as 1/5000 of a second. However, the photoelectric cell took 1/10 of a second to activate the camera. By that time any self-respecting trout could be well out of shutter range.

Manufacturers said faster equipment was impossible. However, he told his predicament to an old friend, Comdr. William S. Heston, USNR electronic expert. He suggested a thyatron tube in the circuit. Those tubes are used in radar. They control the strong power pulses emitted hundreds of thousands of times each second, acting as a trigger mechanism, writes Davidson.

"With our new device hooked up, I dropped more golf balls (past the photoelectric beam). The difference was astonishing. Just 1/77 of a second after a ball broke the beam it had taken its own picture.

To try out his plan, Treat decided to build a large aquarium in a small outbuilding over objections of his wife and daughter. When a pane of glass on one side broke spilling water all over, their objections increased, but the author just bought stronger glass.

Then the first two tenants of the new aquarium proved very unmanageable and no success was forthcoming until Earl Bigford, manager of the federal fisheries station at Cherry Grove, gave him permission to work there.

"Spurred by appetite, the nursery fish performed beautifully.

Of course, I could not control the position of my subjects. About 90 percent of the time the fish were turned at the wrong angle as they jumped for my lures.

"I was using a hookless fly especially styled for color pictures. The smallest puff of wind blew it out of camera range. Even so, out of 150 pictures I made that day, three were fair and two were really good. I was encouraged to keep at my work.

"One sunny day in October I determined to try another sort of trout picture—action pictures of the eastern brook trout migrating upstream. For such shots, my photoelectric beam would be useless. But speed was less important here than at precise portrait ranges.

"So I packed my equipment along Farnsworth Branch of Tionesta Creek. I had just found a likely stream when I dropped my camera into the water. Fortunately, it dried in the autumn wind, and soon I was working away, shooting whenever my senses told me that a trout was about to leap. I could hardly miss, for fish were coming frequently. And whenever luck permitted me to catch a trout at the peak of his jump, I got a clear picture.

"These photographs, of course, lack the close detail of those

Jaws agape, a hungry fish stands on its tail for a damsel fly lure...

—Courtesy W. Treat Davidson and National Geographic taken electronically, but they show more of the trout's native world—the current-churned waters and banks rich with hemlock.

Of the difficulty of taking pictures in this manner, Davidson writes: "Out of some 1,000 photographs I have taken of leaping trout, I can find just 36 'keepers', and only 11 of real top quality."

County Cancer Society Has Many Very Interesting Films

Publicity release from the Warren County Unit of the American Cancer Society

"Most of us have a visual memory. Facts that are made graphic for us are more easily absorbed and remembered. That is why the educational films of the Warren County Unit of the ACS have proved such an effective weapon in fighting cancer.

Edgar Pendleton, County Crusade chairman expressed this opinion today, and announced free showings of cancer control films during the month of April. The Cancer Society's educational and fund-raising drive will be launched April 1.

Mr. Pendleton stated that he anticipated heavy scheduling of the motion pictures throughout April. Clubs, fraternal orders, student bodies, labor unions and any other organizations that wish to arrange for free showings of the cancer control film, are urged to contact the local Unit of the ACS immediately. The telephone number is 2107—the address, 404 Market street.

"We have quite a variety of these films," Mr. Pendleton stated. "They have been prepared by the film department of the American Cancer Society, and every device has been used to make clear and informative. Yes, and entertaining, as well. Some of the films are animated, others are in color. For example, we have a cartoon character we call Sappy Homiens, who goes through all the familiar fears... only to discover happily that he doesn't have cancer when he finally decides to get a checkup.

"The film, 'Breast Self-Examination', has been seen by more than 5,000,000 women and many of them are alive today because they saw it.

Any time is the right time to learn about the facts of cancer, but April is surely the logical time to do something about this Number Two disease killer. As always, April is Cancer Control Month by presidential proclamation.

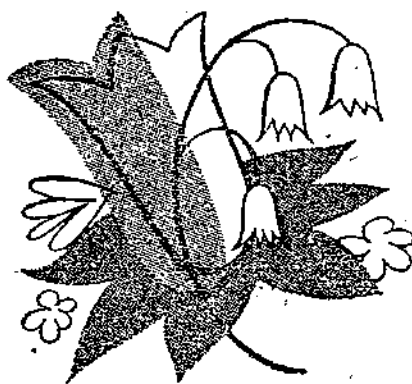

"We hope the month will be a reminder to all our friends and neighbors in Warren County to see our motion pictures, and to make dates for that annual checkup, and by no means least, to send that check. The American Cancer Society needs it to sustain its vital programs of research, education and service."

The city of Cincinnati was once widely known as "Porkopolis" because of its many meat packing establishments.

Altoona and Strong Vincent Meet in Final Contest for State P.I.A.A. Championship

By The Associated Press

Two teams that had to beat the percentages to get there will meet in the State P.I.A.A. Class A final in Philadelphia Saturday night.

Altoona of Dist. 6 earned the right to represent the west with a come-from-behind 53-53 victory over Erie Strong Vincent of Dist. 10 last night at the Pitt Field House in Pittsburgh.

Dist. 1 champion Haverford won the eastern title with a surprisingly easy 71-54 victory over Dist. 3 titlist York at the Palestra, site of the state final.

This meeting almost was fore-ordained by the way in which the two teams had disposed of the expected state finalists in earlier interdistrict competition.

In Altoona's case, the Lions had sidetracked the WPIAL champion, Charleroi, in the western semi-final last Saturday night, 49-47. Thus, for the first time since 1940, the WPIAL didn't put its champion in the state final, a 17-year streak during which the powerful district won eight state championships.

Haverford had pulled off one of the biggest upsets of the PIAA playoffs when it surprised last year's state runnerup, Chester, for the Dist. 1 championship.

This will be the Fords first appearance in the big game. In its only previous appearance in the playoffs as Dist. 1 kingpin, Haverford was bounced by Swoyersville of Dist. 2 in the 1950 eastern final.

Although Altoona has appeared in nine previous playoffs as Dist. 6 champion, this will be the Lions first shot at the state crown since 1938. They lost to Hazleton Dist. 11 that year, 29-27. In one other appearance in the state final, 1933, Altoona lost to Lower Merion of Dist. 1, 21-16.

Haverford handed York its first defeat of the season—after 23 successes—in the eastern final last night. Leading by only 29-25 at halftime, the Fords put on a tremendous third quarter surge to open up an 18-point gap going into the final stanza.

Al Kaemmerlen, 6-foot-3, was the key man for the Montgomery County school, scoring 27 points and grabbing off 19 rebounds. He played havoc with York's offense, blocking several shots. Gene Becker paced York with 14 points.

Altoona trailed Vincent, 33-26, at halftime. Then 6-foot-4 Jim Curry found the range on six of seven field goal attempts to pace a third quarter effort that turned the game in favor of the Lions, it was Altoona 47-41, after three periods. Curry wound up high scorer with 21 points. Wally Knox led Vincent with 16.

Globetrotters and Surfriders Stage Show in Jintown

Jamestown Sun: Turning on the pressure for brief bursts of dazzling basketball and weaving both strange and familiar clowning patterns in the over-all fabric, the Harlem Globetrotters cantered to a 78-62 victory over the Honolulu Surfriders in their exhibition basketball game before an estimated crowd of less than 1,000 in the Senior High School gymnasium Wednesday night.

The exhibition was sponsored by the East Side Athletic Club. The ball-handling of the Trotters, in accordance with what the fans have come to expect and take for granted, was as scintillating as it was efficient and the world's greatest touring casaba combine, armed with everything needful to make the game interesting, had little difficulty in conquering their traveling companions, who played it straight all the way.

Leading protagonists of the clowning motif were Bob "Snowboat" Hall, who wore jersey 45 and long J. C. Gipson, No. 53. Carl Green and Chico Burrell turned in a lot of sharp basketball, and Joe Bourne (40) a dabble maestro, did about everything with the ball but make it play "Home Sweet Home" despite the utmost efforts of two of the Surfriders' stellar guards, (each of whom took a turn in trying futilely) to gain possession of the ball.

The Trotters kept up a running fire of chatter, their tongues almost but not quite exceeding their speed and for their rebounding. They lined up for their accustomed baseball and football stunts, the former featuring a home run and his "hesitation slide" by Hall, the latter starring Bob Williams, and his dropkick try for a bucket, which, by the way, failed this night.

Warriors Meet Celtics Tonight In Crucial Game

Philadelphia (AP) — The Philadelphia Warriors, hanging by their fingers on the brink of elimination, clash with the Celtics tonight at Boston in a desperate bid for four straight victories and the National Basketball Assn. Eastern Division title.

The Warriors went into last night's contest trailing 3-0 in the best-of-seven elimination series and pulled the fat from the fire with a 112-97 victory over the Celtics at Convention Hall.

In the Western playoff series, the St. Louis Hawks meet the Detroit Pistons tonight in St. Louis. The Hawks lead the series 3-1.

Tom Gola and Paul Arizin divided 62 points to pace the attack for the Warriors' first win. Tom Heinsohn tossed in 20 points for the losers.

Basilio Hospitalized for Treatment for Bulging Eye

Chicago (AP)—Treatment of specialist suggested that the Carmen Basilio's swollen eye begins today in Wesley Memorial Hospital where the de-throned middleweight champion's wife Kay spent the night near his bedside.

Basilio fought the last 10 rounds against Sugar Ray Robinson in the Chicago Stadium Tuesday night with his left eye completely closed. It ballooned into a mean, deformed thing by the end of the fight, which Robinson won on a split 15-round verdict.

A Chicago eye specialist, Dr. A. Peritt, was called in to examine the eye at the insistence of Basilio's wife. The former champion be taken to the hospital.

After an examination, this statement was issued: "The eye itself is not involved. There has been a massive hemorrhage around the eye and we want Mr. Basilio to be hospitalized several days for observation and treatment."

Robinson, saying that he "ached in every bone," parried the question of a third meeting with Basilio, who won the 160-pound title from him in New York last September.

The regular season champion Hershey Bears and the fourth-place Springfield Indians held 1-0 leads in Calder Cup semi-final playoffs today following come-from-behind victories in the opening games.

Hershey turned back Providence 3-1 and Springfield edged Cleveland 2-1 last night.

Providence, which finished in third place in regular American Hockey League campaign, moved in front of Hershey on a second period goal by Jimmy Bartlett. But Aime Kullman and Obie O'Brien scored later in the same session and put the Bears in front to stay. Bob Solinger added an insurance marker in the final period.

Cleveland also broke in front of Springfield as Cal Stearns scored midway in the first period. Cal Gardner evened matters for the Indians at 15:47 of the same period and Jack Caffery's marker early in the third provided Springfield's winning margin.

The second games in both best-of-seven series will be played in Hershey and Cleveland Saturday night.

Training Camp Notes

By BEN OLAN
The Associated Press
Sixty runs and 15 homers in five games—that's the most recent performance of the Chicago Cubs.

If rival managers are taking notice, who can blame them? Bobby Bragan of Cleveland and Bill Rigney of the Giants have been forced to. Their teams have been taking the shellackings.

The Cubs hammered five homers in trouncing the Indians 10-5 yesterday. Dale Long, Elvin Tappe, John Goryl, Walt Moryn and Jim Bolger did the home run hitting while Ernie Banks drove in two runs with a single.

The Pittsburgh Pirates, who finished in a tie with the Cubs for seventh place last year, were heartened by the return to action of first baseman Ted Kluszewski. Big Klu, who was out with a back injury most of last season at Cincinnati had one single in three trips as the Bucs trimmed Los Angeles 6-4.

Bob Friend went the distance for the Pirates. The winners got all their runs off lefty Johnny Podres.

Another route-going performance was turned in by Whitey Ford of the New York Yankees. Ford yielded only four hits as the Yank B team beat Richmond of the International League 8-1.

The Yankees' regular squad was not so fortunate. Sloppy defensive play enabled the St. Louis Cards to pick up three runs in the sixth inning and three more in the eighth for a 7-3 victory over the American League champs.

Willie Mays and rookie Orlando Cepeda each hit two home runs as the San Francisco Giants beat Baltimore 7-5. Oriole manager Paul Richards was ejected from the game for disputing a decision by umpire Shag Crawford.

Joe Adcock led an 11-hit attack with a pair of four-baggers in Milwaukee's 10-2 triumph over Philadelphia. Don Cardwell of the Phils was belted for five runs in the eighth. Ed Mathews also homered for the Braves.

Billy Goodman drove in six runs with two doubles and single that helped the Chicago White Sox trounce the Kansas City A's 14-1.

The Boston Red Sox sent the Detroit Tigers down to their sixth setback in their last seven games. The Sox won 4-2, breaking a 2-all tie in the seventh on a double by Jim Piersall and a three-bagger by Billy Consolo.

Jaycee Young Farmer Program at DuBois

Gov. George Leader will be the featured speaker at the annual Outstanding Young Farmer program scheduled for Friday, March 28th, in DuBois. This program is sponsored annually by the Pennsylvania Junior Chamber of Commerce and is for the purpose of honoring the young men of Pennsylvania who have made great contributions to the field of agriculture.

Jaycee chapters from all over Pennsylvania have held local programs to determine the Outstanding Young Farmer in various areas, and the twenty-five to thirty so chosen have been entered in the state-wide competition which will determine the one young man who typifies "young men in action" in agriculture.

To be eligible for the award the nominees must have been active not only in farming, but in civic affairs in his community.

Defense Attorney Asks New Trial for Garrison

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A defense attorney has asked for a new trial for William Garrison, convicted of first degree murder in the robbery-slaying of an elderly Pittsburgh widow.

Miss Lois McKee filed the new trial motion yesterday. She claims Judge Lohr L. Lewis erred in allowing Garrison's unsigned statement to police to be read to the jury.

The jury returned its verdict last Saturday and fixed the penalty at life imprisonment. Garrison was accused of taking part in the slaying of Mrs. Elizabeth Ensinger last Nov. 17.

U. A. W. Contract Is Studied by GM Chiefs

DETROIT (AP)—General Motors Corp. negotiators today were studying a proposed contract presented by the United Auto Workers as talks covering 320,000 GM workers recessed until April 8.

The UAW presented its demands, including its controversial profit-sharing plan, in talks opening Tuesday. The meetings were recessed yesterday so the company could study the demands and make counter proposals.

Hollywood's Happiest Marriage Comes to End

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Esther Williams and Ben Gage have decided to end what once was regarded as one of Hollywood's happiest marriages.

She sued for divorce yesterday, charging the former radio announcer with extreme mental suffering and cruelty.

They married 12 years ago and have three children.

They separated last November.

McKeesport Fire

McKEESPORT, Pa. (AP)—The Palisades, a two-story frame building used for sports and recreation, was damaged by a four-alarm fire yesterday.

Fire Chief James McDermott said the cause was not determined. He estimated the damage at $10,000.

Professional boxing bouts were to have been held at the arena tonight. Promoter Ben Anolik said he will try to find another place to hold the bouts.

Grove City Tragedy

GROVE CITY, Pa. (AP)—Timothy Robson, 6, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. K. Robson, was killed by a truck yesterday while crossing a street near his home.

The death was the seventh traffic fatality in Mercer County in less than a week. Five youths were killed in a three-car crash near Sharon last Saturday, and a man was killed in a one-car wreck near Sharon Sunday.

On the Job!

A screech of brakes, a crash, then silence. Another tragedy on the highway. But three children are alive today because a passing motorist knew principles of Red Cross first aid. By applying pressure to bleeding wounds and treating victims for shock, the first aid giver saved the lives of these children whose parents were killed instantly. Training people to give first aid goes on all year, every year. You are asked to give but once a year to your Red Cross. DO IT NOW—GIVE GENEROUSLY.

Intelligence Agent's Death Still Mystery

CAMP ZAMA, Japan (AP)—The U.S. Army said today that laboratory tests give no hint of what killed an Army intelligence agent found floating in Tokyo Bay but that he did not die a natural death.

The Army's statement said the exact cause of the death of M. Sgt. Emmett E. Dugan, Crafton, Pa., "may never be known." Dugan's body had been in the water so long, the Army said, that chemical tests were neither reliable nor conclusive.

Drowning was ruled out because Dugan's lungs were not filled with water. There was no trace of any poisonous chemicals in his body, the statement said, and no evidence of any injuries that could have killed him.

Polk State School Is Given Accreditation

HARRISBURG (AP)—Polk State School in Venango County stood out today as one of six state institutions in the nation to be accredited by the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals.

The State Welfare Department announced today that the accreditation was made recently for a three-year period. The school for mentally retarded children had received provisional approval in 1946 under the old American College of Surgeons inspection services.

Stassen Tells Erie He Will Revise Tax Plan

ERIE, Pa. (AP)—Harold E. Stassen told a group of Erie Republicans last night that he will revise the state's tax system if he is elected governor.

Here in his campaign for the Republican gubernatorial nomination, Stassen said:

"Over the past 10 years the state has lost one billion dollars a year in factory payrolls because we have not maintained our relative position as a leader in manufacturing."

Blaming what he called unwise tax policies, Stassen said he would revise the tax system to make it competitive with other states.

GSA Has Problem in College Construction

HARRISBURG (AP)—The General State Authority today sought the legal advice of the state as to whether it can spend some $8,200,000 on college building construction. The money has been earmarked by the Legislature for a new state office building here.

Gov. Leader, chairman of the GSA, renewed his efforts to transfer the allocation at yesterday's monthly meeting of the authority.

"It is more advantageous to use these funds for Penn State and state teachers colleges than for an office building we don't need presently," Leader said.

Missing Children Are Found in a Dog House

CHICAGO (AP)—Three little children, missing for several hours and hunted by scores of policemen and neighbors, were found by a neighbor yesterday in the large doghouse in his back yard.

Behind the locked door of John Mayo's doghouse were Mike Koloc, 4, Pat Cavney, 4, and Craig Chisholm, 4. All were crying. They didn't know how the door became locked.

Mayo's police dog wasn't home. It was on duty, searching for the children.

Executive Order Cuts Allotments On Crude Imports

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today cut down allotments under the government's voluntary crude oil import program and barred noncomplying companies from getting government contracts.

Eisenhower issued an executive order and approved a Cabinet committee report applying further curbs effective April 1 on the inflow of foreign oil, as a national security measure.

His action means that petroleum companies which now import crude must reduce their foreign purchases by almost 15 per cent, to reduce the nation's total intake and to let newcomers enter the importing field.

The order does not alter the voluntary quotas previously established for the Pacific Coast states, Arizona and Nevada. But from the Rocky Mountains east, total imports will be reduced from the 71,400-barrels daily average now in effect to 713,000 barrels daily.

Requests F.B.I. Probe Of Heyburn Charges

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—U.S. Atty. Harold K. Wood today requested the FBI to investigate reports that state troopers roughed up former State Treasurer Weldon Heyburn.

Heyburn, an independent candidate for the Republican nomination for U.S. senator in the May primary, told friends and relatives he was manhandled March 9 by two state policemen when he suffered a slight stroke while driving near his Concordville home last week.

Wood said that if the reports are true, the case "clearly comes within federal jurisdiction."

The two officers, Cpl. William Parkinson, and trooper Harry J. Adick, could be indicted for a violation of Heyburn's civil rights. If indicted, they would be tried in federal court, Wood said.

Besides the FBI, state police and the State Justice Department are investigating.

Five Attempts to Send Up Vehicles Planned

Washington (AP)—The United States said today it will make up to five attempts to send unmanned space vehicles to the vicinity of the moon.

The White House and Defense Department issued separate announcements.

Secretary of Defense McElroy said that with President Eisenhower's approval the Pentagon's Advanced Research Projects Agency will proceed with several programs for launching a number of small, unmanned space vehicles.

An initial allocation of about eight million dollars has been made to start the space program.

Both the White House and the Pentagon said no timetable will be announced for the projects, and that there will be no speculation now on probable dates.

Arguments Presented In Cinder Deals Trial

HARRISBURG (AP)—Defense attorneys asked a jury in Dauphin County Court today to demand proof from the prosecution of charges that two men defrauded the State Highways Department of $20,000 in cinder deals in Lancaster County.

Prosecution and defense attorneys made their opening statements to the jury of eight women and four men in the trial of a Schuylkill County contractor and a former Lancaster County highways superintendent on charges of conspiring and false pretense.

Funerals

MICHAEL J. DONICK—Friends will be received at the Borden Funeral Home in Sheffield, starting at 7:00 p. m. today, and the rosary will be recited there at 8:15 p. m. Friday. Services will be held at 9:00 a. m. Saturday at St. Michael's Greek Catholic church, Father Theodore Rudy officiating and interment following in St. Michael's cemetery.

Friday. Services will be held at 8:00 a. m. Saturday in Holy Redeemer church, followed by interment in Sts. Simon and Jude cemetery at Blairsville.

LOCAL RESIDENT HURT IN DETROIT

James J. Ryan, an engineer at Struthers-Wells, is reported in "critical" condition today in a hospital in Detroit where he was involved in an auto mishap Wednesday. A company spokesman said Ryan was on a company business trip when the accident occurred.

He is reported suffering from a possible fractured skull, fractured pelvis and back injuries. He resides at 206 Conewango Avenue.

West Germany Purchasing 24 U. S. Missiles

Bonn, Germany (AP)—A West German Parliament committee today approved purchase of 24 U. S. Matador missiles capable of firing a nuclear warhead 600 miles.

The purchase does not require approval of the full Bundestag, which voted Tuesday night to accept atomic weapons if North Atlantic Treaty Organization leaders decide they are necessary.

The committee made its decision over the vigorous opposition of the Socialists and Free Democrats. Both parties have fought Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's plan to accept nuclear weapons.

Six ramps will be bought for launching the Matadors. Government and committee spokesmen declined to say how much West Germany will pay for the weapons.

Defense Minister Franz Josef Strauss negotiated the purchase during a visit to the United States earlier this month.

Public and parliamentary debate over the plan to arm German forces with atomic weapons has been prolonged and bitter. The Adenauer government maintains that NATO leaders can best decide whether the weapons should be stationed in Germany. He argued that only with the best modern weapons can the West defend itself against the Soviet Union.

Strauss was assailed during the debate as a warmonger and a dangerous man.

Solar Electric Wins Damages From G. M.

Long standing litigation of Solar Electric Corporation against the General Electric Corporation and Sylvania Electric Products was settled out of court today by receipt of $240,000.00 by Solar from General Electric.

The local corporation, which manufactures incandescent lamps, had effectively claimed that the larger corporation used monopolistic practices which for many years kept the smaller companies from obtaining high speed equipment for light bulb production.

Stuart J. Myers, Treasurer of the local firm, admitted that much larger damages might have been obtained by permitting the case to go to trial, but it was decided that such litigation might continue over many years of time, and would require much attention that might better be applied to expanding under the improved conditions in the lamp industry.

U.S. Patrol Seizes Armed Cuban Rebels

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (AP)—U. S. authorities rammed a boat loaded with 36 uniformed, armed Cuban rebels in a predawn attack today. They captured the men and a quantity of arms and ammunition.

In an interview with a newsmen for The Associated Press, the leader of the expedition bitterly declared the United States had no right to seize the boat, the El Orion.

Taking part in the capture were the Coast Guard, border patrol and customs agents.

The seizure took place off Brownsville, the city on the southernmost tip of Texas.

Promises Records on Disputed TV Channel

WASHINGTON (AP)—FCC Commissioner Rosel Hyde promised to provide to House investigators today any records he may have on the disputed TV Channel 10 case in Miami.

More than a year ago, the FCC voted 4-2 to give the coveted channel to a subsidiary of National Airlines, but the FCC now has moved to reconsider that grant in view of allegations of wire-pulling in the case.

Chairman Harris (D-Ark.) said the subcommittee on Legislative oversight is planning an interim report on its work before the Easter recess April 3. He said he has sent questionnaires to commissioners on the FCC and five other regulatory agencies asking about a code of ethics.

Strong Opposition

(From Page One)

Crippen, said he felt that renting of the Court House annex would be the best financial bet for Warren Borough but that Commissioners would abide by what Council considered best. Commissioner Blain Mead concurred.

Property owner Ristau was on hand to state he favored the amendment because he could utilize his property better.

Dean Anderson, who had just completed a fine new home on Liberty street, said he would certainly never have built in that location had he known any changes were in the offing. He called the Borough to task for allowing its downtown business district to dwindle to the point where someday a slum district might develop.

He also added that due to a misunderstanding, more of those in protest had not appeared at the meeting but that if letters were what was needed, they could certainly be sent.

Final speaker was Robert Kopf who questioned the shortcomings of the ordinance itself for not exactly pinpointing the type of office building which could be built. In its present form the ordinance would limit the highest of any building to 35 feet. Mr. Kopf stated that a deceptively large number of offices could be sandwiched into a structure that size. Also missing, he said, was a clause stipulating that neighborhood decor be maintained, and more parking space requirements (now one parking space for each 500 feet of office space).

Earlier, Mr. Kopf, in reply to Commissioner Crippen, pointed out that public operation of business in its tax free situation bordered on Socialism. He added that another instance of this was in the works as school board members toyed with the idea of renting the local high school building as offices once the pupils are swept to the peak.

Borough Solicitor S. Knox Harper opened the meeting by reading the entire ordinance. (Briefly, it would allow business and professional office space, but not display windows, and also parking lots for private use. No building may cover more than 40 per cent of any lot. Front and rear yards must have 25 feet clearance, and at least five on side yards. A parking lot is considered as "yard".)

Borough Manager George Geracimos presided.

Council is to act on the proposal at its meeting April 14th.

Gifts for the fourth wedding anniversary should be made in leather.

measurements in the fringe areas that are difficult to study but are highly important both to manned and unmanned aircraft.

Wernher von Braun, deputy to Medaris, said one reason the new Explorer failed to attain a more successful orbit was that the second stage of the four-stage Jupiter-C rocket ignited a little too soon. The satellite was accelerating prematurely to orbital speed of 18,000 m.p.h.

The launching, followed by 10 days the successful Navy launching of the Vanguard satellite, which flies out to a distance of 2,500 miles. Previously Russia had launched two Sputnik rockets, only one of which is still in orbit. The Army launched its Explorer I successfully Jan. 31, but failed March 5 to get Explorer II into an orbit.

The satellite itself is the same size as Explorer I, 80 inches long and 6 inches wide—and at 31 pounds it weighs only a fraction of a pound more than the first Explorer.

and discussion of a ban on thermonuclear tests.

Parliamentary observers pointed out that the new government could be the same as the old one. The government traditionally hands its resignation to a new parliament.

Bulgarian submitted his formal resignation as premier—a post he had held since February 1955—as the joint session of the Supreme Soviet began.

Then Voroshilov named Khrushchev as the new head of government.

Khrushchev is also first secretary of the party's Central Committee. He now becomes the third man in recent times to hold both top positions in the Soviet Union simultaneously.

The others were Josef Stalin and Georgi Malenkov. Malenkov held the twin posts for less than a month in 1953.

Bulgarian today appeared at the session of the Council of Nationalities of which he is a member. His face was grave although he smiled at the applause as he entered.

After Voroshilov's statement, which amounted to nomination, the parliamentary machinery went into action to make Khrushchev head of government. As such he will face President Eisenhower across the table if a summit conference is held.

Senate Resumes Work On Huge Highway Bill

Washington (AP)—Senators go back to work on the big highway construction speedup bill today with leaders predicting final passage of the anti-recession measure by tonight.

Sen. Gore (D-Tenn.), chief sponsor of the bill, said he was confident it would be sent to conference with the House without any further major changes. A highway bill passed by the House is less broad in scope.

House Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex.) said in an interview the House probably would agree to the conference quickly. He expressed hope the bill could be sent to President Eisenhower before Congress starts an Easter recess April 3.

The Senate acted on more than a dozen amendments. The hardest fight came on a section to provide federal payments to encourage state regulation of billboards on the 41,000-mile superhighway network now under construction.

the actions of the Soviet leaders themselves.

The resignation of Premier Nikolai Bulganin had been expected but the idea that Khrushchev might take over had been heavily discounted because of the division between party controls and government controls which the post-Stalin leadership has certainly cultivated.

It is just possible that Khrushchev feels this cover up for his expanded personal power is no longer necessary. The White House said President Eisenhower had been advised of the switch of Soviet premiers but that there would be no comment.

There was no immediate comment from Secretary of State Dulles.

New Jersey has had three state constitutions, adopted in 1776, 1844 and 1947.
